

DUBLIN SETTLING DOWN AGAIN AFTER WEEK'S WARFARE

Seven of City's Hotels Burned During Hostilities; 700 Irregulars Taken Prisoner by Nationals.

ONE OF DE VALERA'S LEADERS KILLED

Cathal Brugha (Charles Burgess) Mortally Wounded Wednesday in Final Stand in Sackville Street.

DUBLIN, July 7.—Approximately 700 irregulars were taken prisoner by the national army during the struggle in Dublin which was brought to a virtual close by the surrender of the remnants of the Republicans in the Sackville Street area Wednesday.

Dublin today showed signs of settling down again after the prolonged period of destructive hostilities in the heart of the city. In the week's hostilities, Dublin lost no less than seven of her hotels and now has 20 hostels less than 1911. More than 200 hotel workers already have been thrown out of employment because of the burnings.

One of the signs of the return toward normal conditions was the removal today of the embargo which had been put upon the telephone service for military uses and urgent calls.

Telegrams were sent from Dublin across the channel to theatrical artists that they could safely come to Ireland.

The Anonch Thallteann games committee will meet tonight to continue preparations for the great athletic festival to be held here in August.

General Killed in Fighting. It is learned that in the fighting at Boyle Brigadier-General Michael Dockery of the government forces, was killed.

Cathal Brugha, one of Eamon De Valera's chief lieutenants, died today from the wounds he received on Wednesday while trying to fight his way clear at the surrender of the Republican garrisons in the Sackville Street area.

It is officially announced that the rebels at Curraghstown, Navan, have surrendered. 23 prisoners being taken. Fourteen irregulars were captured today at Maynooth with field arms.

A crisis appears to be preparing at Ennisceorthy, Wexford County. Irregulars have taken possession of a hotel, the technical school and the Protestant church, the belfry of which they have fortified, as well as several houses. National troops occupy the police barracks and castle. Intense but intermittent fighting has been in progress for some days. There has been a wholesale exodus from the town, business is practically at a standstill; all the roads are blocked and the telephone wires have been cut. Forces are believed to be on the way to reinforce the national troops.

Enveloping Movement Begun by Free State Troops in North. An enveloping movement by Free State troops has begun in North Dublin and a clash between the rival forces seemed imminent today. Reports from the republican stronghold at Glenveagh castle and Inchfort indicate that the occupants are preparing for desperate stands. Large parties of republicans are operating in the Bridge End district of Donaghall with the object of harassing the advance of the national army toward Inchfort. The defense of Inch have motor boats in service in which some of them have appeared off Rathoullan on the shores of Lough-Swilly firing on the nationals, but the reply of the latter caused the republicans to withdraw.

Rush of Volunteers. There was a great response today to the provisional government's call to arms, and the Wellington, Portobello and Beggan's Bush barracks, as well as at the city hall, long lines stood waiting to join. The men are being segregated into their own areas.

Besides members of the volunteers offering themselves, there were large number of ordinary citizens for recruitment in the volunteer forces as preliminary to transfer to the actual service list.

During the day great crowds visited the scene of the fighting, but a cordon was drawn to prevent approach to the buildings, only the shells of which are standing and are in danger of falling at any moment. From the ruins from time to time an explosion is heard—this caused by ammunition abandoned by the insurgents.

The firemen's efforts prevented the fire from destroying the Sackville Street Club and the Nelson Pillar, but some of the new buildings in the unburned part of the street bear many bullet marks.

Stock Exchange to Reopen. The banks reopened today and the Stock Exchange will open again Monday. Livestock steamers for England will leave tonight with almost normal cargoes.

There is still no definite news of Eamon de Valera. The Evening Telegraph says it was freely rumored in Bray, a suburb of Dublin, last night that De Valera has been wounded. Credence was given to the fact that Father Dominic, chaplain of the Republican Guard, passed through the military lines in Bray Tuesday night in a motor car flying the Red Cross flag. Father Dominic is reported to have visited De Valera's house at Greystones.

Irregulars Rounded Up in Hills. Nearly 1000 Free State troops today rounded up irregulars in the South Dublin hills, capturing 10 of them and a quantity of motor transport and equipment. The main body of irregulars was driven in the di-

Imposing View of Funeral Cortège of Field Marshal Wilson Passing Along the Thames Embankment at Waterloo

The funeral of the Field Marshal, who was assassinated by two men, who had a grudge against him, was one of the largest in London history and great throngs stood silent as the solemn cortège moved through the city. He was buried with the highest military honors.

The temporary injunction order issued by Federal Judge English at East St. Louis was directed towards strikers on the Illinois Central at Mounds, Centralia, Mattoon, East St. Louis and other points in the Southern Illinois district.

Judge Jack at Shreveport granted a similar injunction to the New Orleans, Texas and Mexico Railway. Mayor Coad of Parsons, Kan., under threat of ouster by Gov. Allen, discharged 61 strikers who had been appointed as special police.

At Wichita, Kan., 50 stationary firemen and oilers joined the strike. A small number of shopmen employed by the Chicago, Peoria & St. Louis Railroad at Alton, Ill., returned to work.

Announcements by the Union Pacific, Burlington and Northwestern systems that pensions and seniority rights would be forfeited unless men returned to work immediately were greeted by jeers from strikers at their meetings.

Strikers at Slater, Mo., comprising 75 per cent of the population, remain virtually in control of not only the Chicago & Alton shops, but the town, and in Morgan County, Ala., where the Sheriff is absent on a trip to Missouri, railroad special agents were threatened yesterday for carrying concealed weapons if they left the property of the Louisville & Nashville. The absence of the Sheriff left no one in authority to deputize special officers, according to reports, and the situation was virtually in the hands of striking shopmen, who, however, had caused no disturbances.

In Illinois State troops at Springfield, Urbana, Decatur, Champaign, Danville and Delevan were ordered to hold themselves in readiness for strike duty.

A threatened extension of the strike of shopmen to include 12,000 signal men was prevented yesterday by members of the Labor Board, when D. W. Helt, head of the Brotherhood of Railroad Signal Men, which has been taking a strike vote, promised to meet the status quo pending further conferences.

Huntington, president, and Thomas Hillery, secretary of the Federated Shop Crafts Union, No. 11, of Topeka, charging violation of the Kansas Industrial Court act in issuing the strike order which resulted in the walkout of shopmen in the Santa Fe shops here, July 1. MEXICAN ARTICLE IS NOT RETROACTIVE, COURT HOLDS Bulletin Says Court Denies to Constitutional Article Any Consequential Effect.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—The Mexican Embassy made public today an information bulletin received from the Foreign Office, in Mexico City, stating that the action of the Mexican Supreme Court on May 12, on cases involving the retroactive phase of article 27 of the Mexican Constitution, had "established the clear and final jurisprudence on the non-retroactivity" of the article in question. The bulletin added that the court's action had "denied to that article (of the Constitution) any consequential effect."

Press reports from Mexico City some weeks ago said that two additional opinions as to the retroactivity of article 27 had been handed down by the Supreme Court, completing the five similar opinions necessary under Mexican practice to establish a question of constitutionality. The retroactivity of article 27 involves the ownership of oil and other properties held in Mexico by Americans and the Washington Government has contended that it could not recognize nationalization of mineral or other resources by Mexico where it was proposed to expropriate property held by Americans prior to the adoption of article 27.

HYDE PAROLED MAN SERVING 5-YEAR-TERM FOR ROBBERY

James Stewart Was Sentenced to Five Years for Part in $1700 Holdup.

Acting on the unanimous recommendation of the State Prison Board, Gov. Hyde today paroled James C. Stewart, 36 years old, of St. Louis, who entered the penitentiary June 17, 1920, to begin a five-year sentence for participation in a $1700 payroll holdup of the Yellow Motor Cab Co., at 3224 Pine boulevard on March 10, 1920.

Stewart, who lived at 3112 North Whittier street at the time of the robbery, was a chauffeur for the company. He confessed to driving two companions from the scene after the holdup. While at the penitentiary he served as driver for Al G. Blakey, superintendent of the prison farm.

His prison record has been good. Stewart's parole also was recommended by Circuit Judge Kline, before whom he was tried. He was paroled to E. O. Johnson of St. Louis. His term would have expired in July, 1923, under allowances for good behavior.

JAPAN THREATENS TO SEND TROOPS TO CHIANTAO REGION

China Must Protect Japanese From Bandits or Action Will Follow, Government Says.

TOKIO, July 7.—Japan has warned the Peking Government that, owing to the danger from bandits to Japanese residents at Chientao, if China fails in her duty to protect Japanese in the Chientao region, the necessity of doing so might "compel reluctant Japan to dispatch troops" to the affected territory.

An Associated Press dispatch from Peking yesterday reported that Japanese Minister Obata at Peking has protested to the Chinese Foreign Office against a bandit attack on a Japanese consulate near Chientao, June 28, which resulted in the burning of a portion of the consulate and the deaths of two Japanese.

Until recently Japanese troops were stationed at Chientao. They were withdrawn following a long series of charges against them.

Marked Friendship for U.S. in England Found by Taft

Generous Greeting Convinces Him That Cordial Feelings for America Prevail in Britain.

By the Associated Press.

CAMBRIDGE, England, July 7.—William Howard Taft added another title yesterday to his long list of honors when Cambridge University conferred upon the Chief Justice the degree of LL. D.

The Duke of York, who sat with Taft also received an LL. D. degree. The Earl of Balfour, chancellor of the university was presented with an illuminated address praising his services at the Washington conference.

Acknowledges Hospitality. Chief Justice Taft has asked the Associated Press to inform the American people of the splendid reception and glowing hospitality he has received from the British. Before leaving tonight for Aberdeen, Scotland, where he will receive another honorary degree, he said:

"My greeting has been so generous and so sincerely cordial that I am unable to find words adequately to convey my gratitude, but I cannot help feeling that England's warm manifestations were not toward me as an individual but in my capacity of a representative of the millions of Americans overseas."

"Everywhere in Great Britain I have found the strongest evidence of the friendship of the English people for America, and I go home with unbounded admiration for the country whence my ancestors came and from which America obtained its common law."

Judicial Procedure. "I have gathered an immense fund of information respecting England's judicial procedure which I will try to digest on the way with a view to presenting the main features of the system to the American Bar Association convention in August. English practice simplifies the procedure by embracing both law and equity in a single action. Preliminary hearings compel both parties to disclose the evidence that is relevant on each side so that when the issue is presented in court it can be expeditiously disposed of."

"I cannot speak too warmly of the comradeship the British bar has shown me and the feeling they have given me of at once being at home."

Taft will receive the honorary degree of doctor of civil law from Aberdeen University while in Aberdeen he will be the guest of the Very Rev. Sir George Adam Smith, principal and vice-chancellor of the university, who lectured in the United States in 1918.

From Aberdeen he will proceed to Glasgow and thence to Liverpool, sailing on Saturday. He plans to go direct to his summer home at Murray Bay, Canada.

500 FOUGHT WAY OUT OF TUNNEL IN SUBWAY FIRE

Police Reserves Called Out. In the meantime, Lexington avenue had been choked with ambulances and fire trucks, and police reserves from three stations were drawing a cordon to hold back the thousands attracted to the scene.

Physicians came hurrying with their office nurses, while calls to the Red Cross brought additional workers.

Police, firemen and volunteers then plunged into the subway and brought out victims after victims, using the emergency exits at Fifty-third, Fifty-fifth and Sixty-third streets, and working by ladders through the ventilation grating at Sixty-first street.

Those least injured were laid out in rows on the sidewalks to receive first aid, while the more serious cases were taken to improvised hospitals near by, later to be removed to regular hospitals.

Fourteen Pulmonaries Used. Neighborhood drug stores were stripped of supplies for treatment of the sufferers. Pulmonaries were rushed to the scene and at one time 14 pulmonary operators were bending over prostrate figures on the sidewalk.

Several priests who happened to be in the neighborhood joined in the rescue and first-aid work and in a few instances, where victims appeared in a dangerous condition, administered the last rites of the church.

How Fumes Were Caused. Blame for the seriousness of the accident was laid on the use of fire extinguishers by Capt. Thomas Rush of Engine Company 39, which was the first to reach the scene. Direct-

The quality of the Steinway cannot be measured in terms of price.

Each Steinway Piano is a masterpiece—above comparison, beyond praise, and worthy of any sum that might be asked for it.

Yet the price asked for a Steinway is a standard price—the same here as everywhere—and, considering the supreme merit of the instrument, a very reasonable price. You can get a Steinway for as little as $875. Terms, if desired, and your old piano taken in exchange.

TOKIO LETTER SENT TO HUSBAND

Chamber of Commerce Secretary Regards Japanese Tariff Commission as Unethical.

The Chamber of Commerce directed the attention of Secretary of State Hughes to a wireless message it has received from the Tokyo Chamber of Commerce, protesting against the Fordney tariff bill, tending to disturb the amicable commercial relations between Japan and America.

The letter of Paul V. Bunn, general secretary, states that the chamber has taken no action on the Fordney tariff, but adds: "Regardless of whether a local Chamber of Commerce initiates or acts upon suggestions of citizens on questions relating to the tariff, it strikes me as somewhat improper and unethical for a chamber of commerce in Japan or any other foreign country, to flood this country with messages either in favor or against a bill pending in Congress."

Holds Frogs Are Fish. GREENSBORO, Pa., July 7.—Frogs fish, or are they game? According to Justice of the Peace Todd G. Truxal, who imposed fines of $25 each on Aldo and Cleo Orlando Chissi and Louis Mark of West Newton, for fishing out of season, men were hauled together with 94 frogs, three goldfish and a can of carbide.

State policemen who arrested the men said the outfit was caught on the banks of Puckey Creek, near the town of Greensboro. It was in full bloom, the "fishing" was in full bloom.

War Veterans Hold Election. MINNEAPOLIS, July 7.—James M. Newell was elected to the position of chairman of the World War Veterans, which closed its annual convention here yesterday.

Frank Casey of Anna, Ill., pleaded guilty yesterday in the Federal Court at East St. Louis to a charge of peddling and selling liquor in violation of the national prohibition act. He was fined $200 and sentenced to 30 days in the county jail at Danville, Ill.

Casey asked that he be confined in the jail at Cairo, Ill., so as to be close to his family, but Judge English said that Casey's health might be impaired if he was forced to remain in the jail there 30 days. He said that persons previously sentenced to jail there had asked for mercy because they alleged that they were afflicted with malaria and other ailments.

CONCLUSIONS OF GUESTS AT LODGE'S "DESPAIR PARTY"

Senate Majority Decides on Measures It Will Take in Effort to Avoid Defeat in Election.

PRESIDENT HARDING SELECTED AS "GOAT"

Soldier Bonus and Ship Subsidy to Be Handed Over to Executive, Effort at Tariff Closure Abandoned.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. WASHINGTON, July 7.—Here are the conclusions reached at the "salvation dinner" at Senator Lodge's house, Wednesday night, the story of which was told in the Post-Dispatch yesterday: The list represents the solemn judgment of the Republican "Council of Despair" as to the measures to be taken to avoid defeat of the party at the coming election:

1. Pass the soldier bonus bill back to the President. If he will not agree with the Senators on some form of a bill that can be passed he is to be asked to assume the whole responsibility of deferring the bonus until the short session of Congress.

2. Press the matter of closure of the tariff bill, so that when it is debated the candidates can point out to the people that Democratic vote prevented a speedy passage.

To Abandon Majority Closure. 3. Abandon all idea of closure by majority vote, as it would bring a filibuster that would prevent any legislation.

4. Seek a gentleman's agreement with the Democrats under which the minor tariff schedules should go through with limited debate, while consideration of the duties on wool, sugar, etc., would have no restriction.

5. Get the President to agree to the postponement of the ship subsidy again until the December session.

It was agreed that the emergency demands that sacrifices be made right and left in order to effect the adjournment of Congress on approximately August 25. It was agreed that the exigencies of campaigning made this necessary. It was held that every day Congress remained in session after Aug. 25 would imperil Republican success. PRESIDENT OF BALDWIN LOCOMOTIVE CO. HERE

Samuel Vaclain Declares Business of Country Is Prospering.

Samuel M. Vaclain, president of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, Philadelphia, is in St. Louis today on a business trip about the country. He arrived yesterday and will depart for Kansas City tonight after delivering a talk by radio on "The World's Confidence, Optimism and Prosperity," from Post-Dispatch Station K S D. in the evening. He is accompanied by his wife and by Grafton Gray, Vaclain and his wife are in charge of the vice president in charge of sales and W. A. Garrett, general transportation manager.

"Of course, the country is prospering," he says. "Last year there were a million marriages. That means a million homes and thousands of these are being erected. Then come the demands. Then come a million babies, and a million baby caps. I am a friend of mine in Philadelphia, a manufacturer of baby caps, told me that his shop has been running till."

"A demand for locomotives is not coming until business generally speeds up and the railroads have more engines to handle the business. Our shops are employing 1000 men and turning out 40 locomotives a month. The force is 10 per cent of that we had to have during wartime demands."

"Other countries are buying locomotives. We got a check for $50,000 from Cuba the other day. Many locomotives are going there for use on plantations. We have sold engines for such commodities as we could sell. We sold to Rumania for and to Argentina for wool. We have in credit and allow it to customers. Everybody has to credit some times."

Negotiated With Russians.
Vaclain negotiated with Bolshevik representatives in Central Europe last winter with a view to supplying locomotives for Russia. No results were effected. Asked day if the Baldwin works were turning out engines for the Soviet, he replied, "Russia is an economic boom." In the phrase of Secretary Hughes.

"The railroads of America," he said, "will continue to use the locomotive. It is a success."

"The coal strike has not affected us in the East. The shipmen of Pennsylvania and Baltimore & railroads have good sense and when they have good jobs. Not one of them have struck."

Burning Feet, Corns and Callouses Halt Mrs. Doyer
On long hike from Boston to Los Angeles
Reaches New York Where Foot Troubles Threaten To End
Strenuous Journey. Tells How She Outwitted Pains
From Sore, Burning Feet, Corns and Bunions with GYPSY FOOT RELIEF
A Wonderful Secret From the Desert

Boston

AFTER shaking hands with Governor Cox, of Massachusetts and Mayor Curley, of Boston, Mrs. Bella Doyer and her fifteen-year-old son started their long hike from Boston to Los Angeles, California, with nothing but jack-knives in their pockets and walking sticks for protection on their strenuous journey. Dressed in khaki uniforms, they reached New York City in good time, where Mrs. Doyer's burning feet, corns and the appearance of a red-sore bunion threatened to halt her intended record-making expedition. But hearing of the wonders performed by Gypsy Foot Relief, Mrs. Doyer obtained a box and anxiously put it to the test, for here was an aggravated condition of foot troubles calling for immediate relief, and she must make good her slogan of "reach Los Angeles by foot-or-die!" How Mrs. Doyer succeeded in besting her own words in an interview, just before leaving New York to continue her 3,300 mile foot-trip, she said: "When we reached New York City, in good time, my feet were burning, sore and aching, callouses had formed and a sore bunion made their home, Johnson Brothers Drug Co., Westport and other leading drug stores.

Los Angeles

appearance, I thought I would have to give up my "reach-California-by-foot-or-die" program. Hearing about the wonders of Gypsy Foot Relief, I obtained a box and applied it that afternoon, and that night, and the next morning, and to my surprise, my feet felt as if they had new life; the burning and aches had ceased, the soreness had gone and the pains from corns and bunions had disappeared as if by magic. I started on my long hike again and now that I have some Gypsy Foot Relief, I am sure I will reach Los Angeles without any more foot troubles or misery.

NOTE:—Gypsy Foot Relief, mentioned by Mrs. Doyer, is a secret from the desert. Applied in a minute, relief comes a few minutes later! The awful pains from burning, calloused feet, corns, and bunions seem to disappear as if by magic! No bother to apply—no plaster—no powders—no soaking feet in medicated baths—no fuss! Simply apply it as directed, then put on your shoes and walk, run or dance as long as you wish, or work and stay on your feet as long as you like! So remarkable are the reports of Gypsy Foot Relief from different parts of the country, that the makers guarantee successful results in every case—or you get back the little it cost! It is sold in this city by all good druggists, including Wolff, Kettner's Drug Co., Judge & Delph Drug Co., Kettner's Drug Co., Endelevs Drug Company, Johnson Brothers Drug Co., Westport and other leading drug stores.

HELICOPTER NOT AN IMPOSSIBILITY, NAVY EXPERT SAYS
Dr. Albert F. Zahm Believes Successful Vertical-Rising Air Machine Will Be Made if Real Need Arises.

COST PRECLUDES COMMERCIAL USE

War Value of This Type Small So Far—Experimental Work Continues to Perfect Dependable Motor.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 7.—The helicopter, or vertical-rising air machine, is not an impossibility—and should a real use for such a type arise successful ones may be seen before many years, according to Dr. Albert F. Zahm, aeronautical expert for the navy. Had there been a need for the helicopter during the war, he said, any of several types could have been perfected, of which working models have been flown.

Zahm is an expert on design and construction of all manner of flying machines. For years he has applied his time to perfection of the airplane, and is well qualified to pass upon the capabilities of any.

Much interest has been shown of late in reports of successful machines of the helicopter type being perfected, in both Germany and England. However, while some flights have been made, none of any consequence are reported by a machine equipped with horizontal propellers or revolving planes, designed to rise vertically from a confined space and descend on the same.

Points to German Test.
That the helicopter is possible, Zahm said, is proved by the German machine, which, rising several times to moderate heights, has carried observers, remained almost stationary while in air and descended in safety. The machine, however, has made no extended flight, such as would prove its dependability, but was tethered to the ground by a mooring rope. At times, when the motors failed, the machine dropped and the passengers saved themselves only by leaping with parachutes.

The experiments are continuing, however, with the purpose of perfecting a motor which can be depended upon to maintain the machine without sudden failure, the scientist explained, for, as soon as the engine stops, the machine cannot glide to the ground as does an airplane, but drops vertically. In a proper descent the propellers should be whirled slowly to ease the landing.

Work for British Prize.
Present hopes of attaining successful vertical flight rest mainly upon the endeavors of Emil Berliner, Washington inventor, whose experiments with the helicopter have extended over a long time; and of Louis Brennan, of London, whose newest machine is reported as nearing completion. He is working to win the £50,000 prize offered by the British Air Ministry for successful flight.

The helicopters upon which most experimentation has been made, consisted mainly of two or more propeller screws mounted horizontally on a vertical shaft, bearing engines, fuel and passengers. Equal numbers of propeller blades must revolve in opposite directions that the body of the machine may not spin like a top. The motors, tanks and body have been mounted in various positions, but the German machine has a sort of pulpit car mounted at the top of the shaft over the propellers for the operators.

Two Other Types.
Whether or not this type of machine is brought to actual use, Dr. Zahm stated, at least two other types of planes that may fly vertically have been offered to the Government. One of these, of which Zahm observed experiments with a working model, was almost identical with the present type of plane, except that mounted behind the body were two sets of air vanes, in groups, tilted at an adjustable angle, like those of Venetian blinds.

When the power was turned on, he said, the "wash" of the air stream from the propellers, pushing against these groups of vanes, caused the model to rise gently vertically. The model was held in mid-air by the action, and when the power diminished it returned gently to earth. A full-size machine of the type, he said, would be equipped with engines of immense power, and furnish sufficient air pressure, and when driven to a sufficient altitude the vanes would be so adjusted that horizontal motion would result. The plane could then fly in the usual manner, finally using the vanes again to descend vertically.

Can Rest Motionless in Air.
The other type offered to the army, he said, was of the present wing plan, equipped with three propellers, two placed far out toward the wing ends, and with vertical rudders and ailerons similar to those in use. The quicker lifting power was obtained by having the wash of the central propeller act upon elevators on the tail of the body, while the side propellers would wash against the special ailerons on the wing tips. When in the air, Zahm continued, this machine could maneuver exactly as does the ordinary plane, cut figures and do "stunts," besides being able to rest motionless in any desired position—vertical, with nose up, if need be.

The best feature, he said, is that both planes of the new types are entirely feasible and can be constructed at any time. In fact, several European inventors and manufacturers are patenting designs of the second type, notably the Frenchman Bleriot, one of the pioneers in aviation.

Experts for the Government studied the second type during the war; it was explained, but the matter went no further.

The general drawbacks of their construction, Zahm said, were, first, the great cost; second, the increased weight of the machines as compared with present engine efficiency; and, third, the need of developing motors with greater power and less weight per horse-power and with a greater amount of dependability. As it is, he said, a successful helicopter may be flown to any height, but the operators will never know when the engine will give a cough and die away.

The German experimenters, however, he added, have in part overbalanced this disadvantage. It has been determined by experiment that a propeller of three or four narrow blades, caused to revolve by the pressure resulting from a forced almost stationary with a dead engine, will develop as much parachute resistance as a solid disc of the diameter of the blade spread. In addition, the German machine is equipped with air cushions on the landing bottom so that the landing, if forced, may be made comparatively easy.

Means of steering experimental helicopters, and of which one would undoubtedly be used in a successful machine, are two. The first is a means of tilting the propellers' shaft or the whole machine, when it will travel in that direction; the second being the use of vanes similar to those already described. With the latter, Zahm thinks, a helicopter sufficiently powered, should be able to cut capers in the air as aviators do at present.

Any of the types advanced, would, in warfare, be of great use in bomb dropping or for observation. The main disadvantage, that of being a good target for artillery fire while stationary, could be offset by quickness of movement from point to point, and short stops while hovering.

Still, Zahm points out in summing up, the fact that the War Department was offered such machines at a time when all resources were being expended in better or more efficient implements of warfare, and rejected them, although they are completely feasible, is sufficient indication of their war value. As to their being put to commercial or social uses, the immense expense precludes the possibility.

GERMAN LABORER HAS HAND-TO-MOUTH LIFE

Notwithstanding His Poverty, However, Chocolate Candy Has Become Very Popular With Him.

Correspondence of the Associated Press.
BERLIN, June 13.—Chocolate candy, the war-time "iron ration" of armies, has become increasingly popular since the war among the laboring people of Germany, despite the hand-to-mouth existence in which they are forced to live because of low wages and high prices. The workers here are said to have now usurped the pre-war position occupied by the middle classes as the greatest consumers of this "luxury."

Simultaneously with comment in the press on this anomaly in the workingman's budget, figures are announced which show that the German laborer today is receiving barely sufficient to keep him and his family in the necessities of life.

Clara Bohm-Schuch, Socialist member of the Reichstag, reporting in Voss's paper the results of an inquiry into workers' living conditions, declares higher wages are necessary and that the present state of affairs is due to the practice of usurers in agriculture, industry and trade.

Interviewing an industrialist, she writes, she was told that diligent workers in his establishment received "good" wages at about 1150 marks a week, equal to about $4 in American money. She sought out a mechanic and found that was the exact amount of his stipend, and that he supported a wife and child on it.

She cites also the case of a barber's family of five, including three children between 10 and 15 years of age, which lived on the man's salary of 1000 marks a week. In a third family of four the budget was based on earnings of 3800 marks a month.

600-POUND INDIAN TREATY BOWL FOUND IN CANADA

Ceremonial Vessel, Largest in Existence, Said to Be More Than 500 Years Old.

By the Associated Press.
VANCOUVER, B. C., July 6.—An Indian treaty bowl, weighing 600 pounds, and said to be the largest in existence, was found at Nimkish, 100 miles north of here.

The relic, which is said to be more than 500 years old, is 15 feet long, and, according to archeologists, was made by Indians using stone tools and axes. The bowl, which was the center of an interesting Indian ceremony, was called by the aborigines "the mother of the Five Tribes."

These tribes would meet to discuss hunting laws and tribal boundaries, and on such occasions the bowl was filled with some kind of liquor. After the conference of chiefs of the respective tribes, they would take a smaller bowl and, filling it with the liquor, would take it back to their councilors. If the terms agreed on for a treaty were approved by these councilors, the liquor was returned and the vessel was laid under the neck of the idol, this constituting an ultimatum.

The bowl was found by a party engaged in removing a totem pole attached to the side of an old house. The relic will be placed in the Vancouver museum.

LEGION MEN PLAN TOUR OF BATTLEFIELDS IN FRANCE

Several Hundred Veterans and Auxiliary Members Will Make Tour in August.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 7.—A pilgrimage to the battlefields on which they fought four years ago has been arranged for several hundred former service men by the American Legion. The tour is open to members of the Legion and its auxiliaries, which comprise the wives, mothers, daughters and sisters of the men who served in the World War.

The party will sail for France on the President Pierce, Aug. 5; will land at Cherbourg, and go directly to Paris, where it will be officially welcomed by the French Government. During the stay in Paris trips will be taken to the French battlefields and other points of interest.

According to the itinerary of the Legion the party will reach Brussels Aug. 30. From Brussels it will go to Ostend and tour the battlefields of Flanders. From Belgium the Legionnaires will go to London, where they will be the guests of the London Post of the American Legion and the British Legion. The party will return on the steamship Metagama, arriving at Montreal Sept. 14.

Arrangements for the tour are in charge of John J. Wicker Jr., of Richmond, Va., who as tour director has headquarters at the office of the American Legion Weekly, New York.

Machinery in Place of Lumberjacks.

GUOHOMISH, Wash., July 7.—Gone are the exciting river drives in Washington logging. The advance agent of a motion-picture company, anxious to find a suitable setting for a Western film where logs were floated down the river rather than being transported by train, had to give up. There is a small logging firm operating in the Knappton district using the splash dam method and the motion-picture people decided to frame up a logging scene there. The most modern methods now are followed in Northwest logging and machinery does much of the arduous work formerly performed by men.

Goat Has License to Drive.

WARE, Mass., July 7.—Charles O. Buffington's goat has a license to operate an automobile. So far as known, it is the only goat in Massachusetts to carry such a license. Buffington, rural mail carrier on Route 1, had his operator's license stuck in beside a seat of his automobile. The goat climbed in and ate it, passing up last year's license, which was beside it. Buffington had to apply to the State Public Works Department for a duplicate.

BAN ON SUNDAY GAMES
CONDEMNED IN BRITAIN

Most Newspapers and Some Clergymen Oppose Park Restrictions.

Correspondence of the Associated Press.
LONDON, June 14.—Many people are demanding that the London County Council allow the playing of cricket, tennis and other games in the parks on Sundays. The movement has the support of most of the newspapers, and not a few of the clergy. They say that if people go to church in the morning they ought to be allowed to play games in the afternoon.

"London spent yesterday out of doors," says the Daily Chronicle. "It was a perfect Sunday for games. Every private cricket ground, bowling green and tennis ground was occupied. The only grounds where tennis was forbidden were those controlled by the London County Council. While members of the County Council themselves play tennis on Sunday they prohibit others from doing so in the public parks. Thousands of young men and women who would have played but for the County Council kill-joy ban, dawdled about doing nothing."

"It is the same with cricket. The thousands of pitches controlled by the County Council are not allowed to be used on Sunday, and boys were standing about smoking cigarettes who would have been playing games but for the Sabbatharian fetish: 'No games on Sundays.' There is a growing storm of public anger at this prohibition of Sunday games."

"I shall certainly see the triumph of this movement for Sunday games," said a reformer who is behind the movement. "In England every Briton has the right to get drunk, if he wants to, between certain hours on Sunday. It is absurd to permit a man to get drunk on Sunday, but prohibit him from playing games in the public parks on Sunday. A man cannot get drunk while playing games. Therefore, I am for games on Sunday if only in the interest of temperance."

HUEGENOT MEMORIAL AT MOUTH
OF ST. JOHN'S RIVER PLANNED

Florida Societies Seek to Commemorate Early Settlement by French.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., July 1.—A movement for the erection of a suitable memorial near the mouth of the St. Johns River, about 25 miles from here to commemorate the establishment of the first Huegenot settlement in the New World, has been launched by historic, civic and social organizations in Florida. Jean Ribault and a small band of Huegenots landed near the mouth of the St. Johns on May 1, 1565 and he gave the stream the name "River of Maie" by which it was known for many years.

After trading with the Indians, Ribault and his followers moved to Fort Royal, S. C., where they remained a year, returning to France in a ship of their own construction because of failure to receive proper support from their native land. Ribault sent a larger ship from France in 1564 in two ships under the leadership of Laudonniere and a settlement was established at the mouth of the River of Maie. The colony was in existence only two years. Spaniards, who meanwhile had settled at St. Augustine, massacred the entire party in 1566.

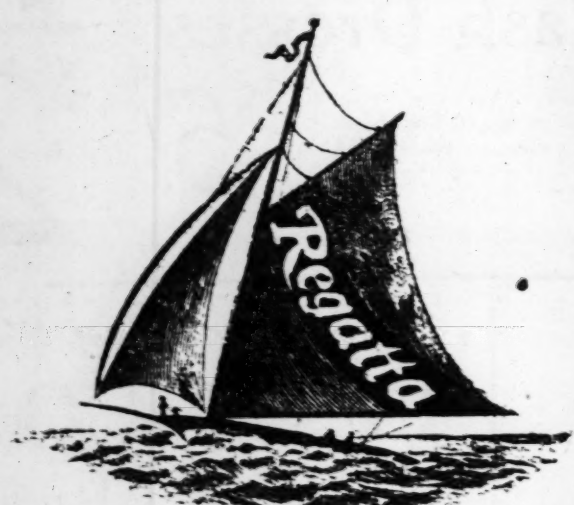

"LOOKOUT TREE," GIANT CYPRESS
OF FLORIDA SWAMPS, FALLS

By the Associated Press.
MOORE HAVEN, Fla., July 7.—The "lookout tree," a cypress believed to have been the largest in Florida and which had stood for ages near the shore of Lake Okechobee, a short distance from the settlement of Belle Glade, has fallen. After withstanding violent storms, the big tree, 45 feet in circumference eight feet above the ground, toppled before a light gust of wind. Subsidizing of the waters because of the drainage of the Everglades had resulted in a settling of the muck ground which left its roots undermined.

At the base of the tree was an artificial mound of sand believed to have been carried from the lake shore by mound builders, who once were inhabitants of the territory. The Indians or pre-historic people buried many of their dead in the mound, for numerous specimens of human bones have been recovered from it. One of the most interesting of these was a wrist bone encased by a crude handcuff, a recent discovery.

BUBONIC PLAGUE CLAIMING
THOUSANDS OF LIVES IN CHINA

Correspondence of the Associated Press.
AMOY, China, June 1.—The bubonic plague, which usually breaks out in South Fukien during June, made its appearance this year in April. It has already claimed victims by the thousands, especially in the interior districts, where public health receives little or no attention. There the people are ignorant and know no precautions or remedies save superstitious rites and customs. In Amoy the foreign health officers, schools, local Young Men's Christian Association and Boy Scouts are doing everything in their power to prevent the spread of this malady. Instructive lantern lectures are given in public places by the Young Men's Christian Association, and the Boy Scouts make excursions to villages in the district distributing pamphlets on the plague, its cause and prevention.

AIR-WASHING IN VOGUE IN CHICAGO BUILDINGS

Finest New Structures Have Apparatus for This Purpose Installed in Them.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, July 7.—All of the finest new buildings have installed in them apparatus for washing the air that passes through their ventilating systems.

Chemically pure air consists of about 21 per cent of oxygen, about 78 per cent of nitrogen, and about 1 per cent of an inactive gas called argon. Air is a mixture and not a compound; consequently the percentage of any one of these gases can be increased or decreased, but the above percentages are the ones which normally occur.

In the city air is generally about six or seven parts of carbon dioxide to 10,000 parts of air, in the country about three parts to the same amount and in audience rooms about 50 parts. Carbon dioxide comes from the combustion of coal and wood, and from the decay of vegetable and animal matter. It is exhaled by animals. There is always some dust in the air, the particles can be seen in a beam of sunlight crossing a room. But the most objectionable of all are such organic particles as pollen grains, the spores of fungi, and molds, bacteria, and other microscopic organisms. It is these latter that cause the trouble in exposed food, and that have made necessary a good deal of food legislation. It is because of these impurities that washing the air is deemed necessary. Washing gets rid of practically all of them. Carbon dioxide is a gas which is readily soluble in water, and it is the greatest offender. Dust and other particles are easily removed.

SHOE STORE OWNER, AFTER 3 YEARS, IS FREED OF CHARGE

East St. Louis Man Was Accused of Buying Shoes Alleged to Have Been Stolen.

After the case had been in court more than three years, Jake Beckerman, proprietor of a shoe store at 118 Collinsville avenue, East St. Louis, has been freed of the charge of purchasing shoes alleged to have been stolen from an interstate shipment. Federal Judge English having sustained a demurrer alleging that the indictment was deficient.

Beckerman was found guilty by a jury in the Federal Court at East St. Louis on June 6, 1919, on a charge of purchasing shoes which had been stolen from the Columbia Transfer Co., and which were part of an interstate shipment, being consigned from St. Louis to Montreal, N. C. A teamster employed by the transfer company was found guilty of stealing the shoes and sentenced to eight years in the penitentiary, and Beckerman was sentenced to 10 years. Beckerman appealed his case to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, which reversed and remanded the case, sustaining the contention of Beckerman's attorney that the shoes alleged to have been stolen were not part of an interstate shipment as provided by the Federal statutes, inasmuch as they had not been placed in the care and keeping of a railroad company. On March 16, 1921, Beckerman again was indicted.

Judge English said that to proceed with the case would be a waste of time, as the Court of Appeals already had passed upon it, and the amended indictment would not change the legal phase of the case. When the Circuit Court of Appeals reversed the case Attorney Charles Karch went into the Federal Court in Kansas City and obtained the release of the transfer wagon driver, who had been in the penitentiary about one year.

Beckerman said that he was not aware that the shoes delivered to him by the transfer wagon driver had been stolen and believed they were shoes which he had purchased in St. Louis.

Rats Invade Street Car.
SCRANTON, Pa., July 7.—Rats that have swarmed from flooded mine workings lately in the Upper Lackawanna Valley section created a stir on a street car at Carbondale one day recently among women passengers. A number of rodents appeared in the aisle from under seats and started the women screaming. All passengers were discharged and the crew with brooms and sticks killed the rats. Hundreds of rats from flooded mines are running in the streets of Mayfield and Jermyn, near Carbondale.

"SOUND BUSINESS ONLY CURE FOR FARM AILMENT"

Nebraska Professor Says Established Methods Must Rule Co-operative Enterprises to Succeed.

SKEPTICISM SHOWN AT THE WRONG TIME

Rural Investor Chary About Investments Closely Related to Him, Loose About Those Not So.

Special to the Post-Dispatch
LINCOLN, Neb., July 7.—The farmers of Nebraska who have undertaken to cure some of their economic ills by investing in co-operative enterprises must operate them more nearly in accord with soundly established business principles if they wish them to survive. Prof. F. E. Wolfe of the college of business administration, University of Nebraska, tells them in a survey he has just concluded of this phase of Middle-Western farmers' activity.

There are more than 900 such enterprises in the State, most of them being operated by local farmers' unions. They cover a variety of commercial activities, but are largely elevators, stores, coal and lumber yards, often run in connection with each other. The survey covers only 239 of these, that being the number that were able to provide the complete information necessary for the task.

Wary of Putting Up.
Wolfe finds that the farmers are disinclined to put up sufficient capital. In spite of the fact that when the flush times were here many farmers invested $500, $10,000, and as high as $50,000, in corporations promoted largely as stock selling enterprises, their average investment in these co-operative businesses in Nebraska is only $130. In nearly every instance they have borrowed up to the legal limit, 40 per cent of the total capital in the business, which is condemned as unsound and unprofitable.

The farmers are also chary about employing experienced men to operate these businesses. Many of the managers are men who have had no other experience than at farming, and $1500 a year is about the average pay they draw. The ratio of current assets to current liabilities is found not to be in conformance with the best business standards; too much of the capital is invested in fixed assets, and the books are not kept in accordance with the best methods.

The co-operative movement in Nebraska is predominantly one of producers. Fifty-eight per cent are elevators and 28 per cent stores. Up to the last two years the number has been increasing constantly, but since 1929 there have been a number of dissolutions, forced by the losses incurred through the decrease in the value of stocks of goods and grain on hand and through failure to provide a sufficient reserve fund. Many laid aside nothing for emergency needs. The actually precarious character of the co-operative business as a whole is shown by the fact that the 239 companies report current assets of $1,744,000, while their current liabilities amount to $1,113,000. The generally accepted ratio in business is 2 to 1, while in their cases the ratio is 1.6 to 1.

A significant part of the survey is that which called for and obtained the actual opinion of the managers themselves as to the value of the co-operative movement. Sixty per cent of them considered that their companies had been an actual benefit to the consumers, while 77 per cent were sure the producers had received great benefits. Answering the questions as to the prospects for co-operation, 34 said fair; 33, good; 16, very good; 17, excellent; 19, unfavorable, and 21 made no reply.

This is the first time in the history of the business that it has gone under the microscope of a business expert, and he lays down a large number of suggestions as necessary to insure successful operation in the future.

Prices Levelled Against Allied Tourists in Germany

Visitors in Unoccupied Sections
Forced to Pay Much More Than Germans.
Correspondence of the Associated Press.
COBLENZ, June 12.—American and British tourists are flocking to the larger cities in the occupied areas of Germany in order to escape the high prices for living now levied against Allied nationals in the interior of Germany.
Hundreds of visitors on their way to and from the Passion Play at Oberammergau making their headquarters during their stay in Germany in this city, and reports from

Cologne occupied by the British and from Mayence and Wiesbaden, occupied by the French are to the same effect. In the occupied areas they are protected against profiteering by laws which prevent German tradesmen from discriminating against Allied nationals.
Prices in the occupation zones,
however, have taken a jump of about 75 per cent since the mark went very low a few weeks ago and its gain within the past few days has had no effect on prices. All tourists returning from the interior are warning their friends not to place themselves at the mercy of the German profiteers who are charging visitors from 200 to 500 per cent more than they are charging German nationals.

ASCETIC PRACTICES MARK DAILY LIFE OF POPE PIUS XI

Pontiff Labors 15 or 16
Hours a Day—Takes Meals While Examining Mail or Directing Secretaries' Work

ENERGY AMAZES PAPAL HOUSEHOLD

Pope Partakes of Simple Food and Has Never Been Known to Refuse a Dish Placed Before Him.

Correspondence of the Associated Press.
ROME, June 18.—The daily life of Pope Pius XI at the Vatican is marked by simplicity, incessant work and regular exercise. He labors from 15 to 16 hours a day; sleeps from six to seven, and plays two hours. His meals are taken while he examines his mail or gives directions to his secretaries. His play consists of a vigorous military march seven or eight times around the Vatican gardens, making five or six miles and this he does, rain or shine.
The Pope takes personal charge of the direction of the affairs of the church, assigning the routine to his secretaries. The diplomatic letters which attracted so much attention during the Genoa conference were the personal work of the Pope.
He reads and delves into the rich collection of Vatican books assiduously. So insistent is he, sometimes, in seeking just the thought he wants that some of the prelates have been compelled to use a "gentle violence" in urging him, when the night has crept fast, to seek repose.
Astounding Energy.
His energy astounds the papal household. Recently, when it was suggested to him that he was working far too hard, Pius XI replied: "You know that when one is made Pope, life is finished. All then is in the hands of God. I will do nothing to preserve my life one day more, but I will work until God says, 'It is enough.'"
The Pope rises at 6:30 o'clock every morning and says mass in his private chapel before breakfast, which is at 8 o'clock. The meal consists of coffee with milk, bread and butter. The usual is brought in while he eats, and the Pontiff divides it among his seven secretaries for attention and answers.
Receptions at Vatican.
At 9 o'clock, Cardinal Gasparri, secretary of state, is received in the papal chamber every day except Tuesday and Friday. On Tuesday Monsignor Borgognini-Duca, the secretary of Extraordinary Ecclesiastical Affairs, is received and on Friday Monsignor Pizzardo, the Substitute Secretary of State. One hour is assigned to each for the discussion of affairs.
At 10 o'clock the Pope commences his private audiences, receiving Cardinals, Bishops, prelates, high civil personages, diplomats and nobles. These conferences last until 1 o'clock when the public audience begins. For an hour the Pope receives pilgrims, associations and various organizations who come to Rome to pay homage to him. At 2 p. m. the master of the Papal Household, Monsignor Caccia-Dominione, is received and places before the Pope the list of audiences for the succeeding day and asks for their approval.
Heard Letters at Meals.
The Pope lunches usually at 2:30. While he eats alone there are several of his secretaries present to receive orders and discuss matters particular to their charge. The Pontiff also has additional letters read to him and gives instructions for the replies. The meal is simple. He is a great lover of rice cooked in the Milan style. Then follows coffee, or perhaps chicken. But the Pope is not exacting; he has never been known to refuse any dish placed before him. A few vegetables and some fruit complete the meal.
A feature of the day which is never neglected is the walk. Promptly at 3:30 p. m. the Pope enters his carriage and is driven to the gardens. Here he walks five or six miles briskly. Even on this occasion there is work. He will have at his side some prelate with whom he wants to confer. He will go into full details of the matter in hand while walking and issue his instructions.
At half-past five the Pontiff returns to the papal apartments. Audiences begin again and he receives Cardinals, Archbishops and other prelates in private audience. These conferences are scheduled to end at 8:30 o'clock but on occasions of importance they continue much later.
Supper is served as a rule at 9 o'clock. This too, is very simple, consisting of only one or two dishes. After supper Pius XI goes to work again. At this hour he devotes himself to the composition of important Vatican communications, later going to the library to read and work. On one occasion recently he kept the library lights burning until 1 o'clock in the morning.

Third Move of Party Since

JEFFERSON CITY, July 7.—Petitions bearing signatures of 54,142 voters in 12 of the State's 14 congressional districts were filed in the Secretary of State's office last night by Dr. E. B. Clements, chairman of the Republican State Committee, proposing that the State senate districts be reshaped by the people of the State, acting under the initiative section of the Constitution. The act proposed by the Republican committee, and which is identical with a redistricting attempted by Gov. Hyde, Secretary of State Beck and Attorney-General Barrett, April, 1921, will be voted upon the November election if the petitions filed by Clements are found to comply with requirements of the Constitution and statutes as to initiative petitions.

Third Move by Republicans. This is the third phase of an effort of Republicans of this administration to wrest permanent control of the State Senate from Democrats who until the last Legislature had steadily controlled the upper House. The size of the Democratic majority has varied with the shifting political winds of succeeding periods. Under the present districting, which has stood since 1901, in the beginning the Republicans had six of the 34 Senators. Then, or twice they got as high as 12, not until the landslide of 1920 they gain control, and then the count stood 19 Republicans and 15 Democrats.

All through the years Republicans had attacked the districts as they existed by creation of Democratic labeling the arrangement as "a corrupt gerrymander."

When the last Legislature convened, a measure to rearrange senatorial districts was introduced but was allowed to die at committee of Republican chiefs who felt that it would be suspended by a referendum attacks by Democrats.

Adverse Court Decision. These party leaders had in mind a section of the Constitution which provided that when the Legislature failed to redistrict at the session after the decennial census that function might be performed by the Governor, Secretary of State or Attorney-General. All of these officials happened to be Republican and they got together on a new set of districts, a set of districts which embodied largely the ideas of Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd, who was aided in the arrangements.

These districts were promulgated April 16. Eight months later they were declared of no force by the State Supreme Court, which held that adoption of the initiative referendum section of the State Constitution in 1908 had taken from the three elective State officers a legislative power to redistrict and that hence their redistricting was invalid.

Republican partisans were fast at that decision, because its effect was to take from them the permanent partisan fruits of their landslide victory, for under the Hyde-Barrett districts it was generally held that 20 of the districts would be safely Republican and Democratic, providing two St. Louis districts and four in Jackson County (Kansas City) returned Democrats.

Where Names Were Obtained. Three months have been required by the Republicans to circulate their initiative petitions, which were filed from the First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, Fourteenth, Fifteenth and Sixteenth Congressional districts. No petitions were circulated in the three St. Louis districts, in the Seventh District an insufficient number of signatures was obtained.

Five per cent of the voters of eleven congressional districts sufficient, however, to obtain a decision of the proposed act. Clements said that he is confident when a check is made today tomorrow by Becker's assistants the petitions will be found to comply with requirements to obtain a decision of the act.

The redistricting measure is the second initiative proposition to be filed in the Secretary of State's office for a vote in November, the other proposition being a new law of election law, of drastic provisions proposed by Building Trades Union leaders of St. Louis, who filed some time ago.

Today is the last day for the proposals for which is sought a vote at the November election.

JEFFERSON CITY, July 7.—Petitions bearing signatures of 54,142 voters in 12 of the State's 16 congressional districts were filed in the Secretary of State's office last night by Dr. E. B. Clements, chairman of the Republican State Committee, proposing that the State senatorial districts be reshaped by the people of the State, acting under the initiative section of the Constitution.

The act proposed by the Republican committee, and which is identical with a redistricting attempt by Gov. Under the present districting, which has stood since 1901, in the beginning of the Constitution, the Democrats had only 12 of the 24 Senators.

Five per cent of the voters in each congressional district are sufficient, however, to obtain submission of the proposed act. Clements said that he is confident that a check is made today or tomorrow by Becker's assistants, and the petitions will be found to meet requirements to obtain submission of the act.

The redistricting measure is the first initiative proposition to be submitted to the Secretary of State for a vote in November, the initiative proposition being a new master and servant law, of drastic proportions, proposed by Building Trades leaders of St. Louis, which is the last day for filing initiative propositions for which is sought a vote at the November election.

COMMERCIAL ISOLATION SEEN FOR AMERICA IF TARIFF BILL NOW IN CONGRESS IS PASSED

Effects of the Measure on International Trade, Europe's Debt to U. S., Foreign Exchanges and on Farmers and Merchants Analyzed.

By ELLIOTT THURSTON.

(Copyright, 1922, by the Press and Publisher Publishing Co., the New York World and the Post-Dispatch.)

WASHINGTON, July 5.—America's foreign trade, now on the threshold of the greatest development in history, will be badly crippled by our own action if the Fordney-McCumber tariff bill becomes a law. The effects of this measure on international trade, on Europe's debt to the United States, on foreign exchanges and on farmers and merchants who sell their surpluses abroad might prove even more disastrous than all the domestic evils it has in store for the public.

With extensive unemployment, this country never stood more in need of foreign trade," according to the unanimously adopted declaration of the ninth National Foreign Trade convention last month in Philadelphia. "Unemployment will not be reduced to its minimum until our export trade is increased by 20 or 25 per cent of normal production.

Must Trade to Get Pay.

"The country has passed from a debtor to a creditor nation. The volume of American foreign trade today is less, however, than would have resulted from maintenance of the average growth of the decade before the war. The value and distribution of our overseas commerce today is entirely inadequate for the service of foreign indebtedness to us and for the employment of the American merchant marine.

It must be recognized that the payment of foreign balances due the United States can be accomplished only in the degree that we are willing to accept goods and services."

More than 1300 delegates—representing agriculture, commerce, industry, finance, labor and transportation, and coming from every State in the Union—concurred in that pronouncement. Yet the framers of the Fordney-McCumber bill, admittedly ignoring all broader economic considerations, have fixed rates that constitute the most insupportable tariff wall on record.

Unable to Get the Gold.

There are only two ways in which our debtors and the future purchasers of our products can pay us—in gold or in their own products. Already we have drained the world of practically all the free gold. While our own Federal Reserve System is running along with a reserve of only 100 per cent on note circulation, Britain is running with about 20 per cent reserve in the Bank of England. Only nations can supply the systems of other nations are badly strained to meet payments they must make to us for such small amounts of goods as they buy from us. To pay interest on the public debt to us, as we are asking, would make the strain worse.

If an American trader sells goods in any foreign market, the price he must pay in gold—and few can—or must arrange a credit with someone who has sold something to Americans. How difficult this process has been in countries known. Many people who want to buy our goods are unable to do so because they cannot get the wherewithal to pay. Even Britain is keeping her cash on hand down to the minimum.

Serious warnings have been given by foreign diplomats here that if their goods are shut out by the tariff they will be unable to buy from producers in this country. They will be unable to do so because they cannot get the wherewithal to pay. Even Britain is keeping her cash on hand down to the minimum.

What a High Tariff Means.

Here are the main consequences that will follow enactment of the prohibitive duties, which are estimated by Treasury experts to be as much as 50 per cent higher than the subsequently repudiated Payne-Aldrich levels of 1909.

1. Europe will be unable to pay us the $1,000,000,000 debt—public and private—resulting from the war, or even to meet the interest obligations on this sum. Economists point out that the only way the debt can be reduced or the interest met is by exchange of merchandise.

2. Stabilization of foreign exchanges and recovery of depreciated currencies will be hindered.

3. With more than half the world's gold supply in this country, a monetary panic is demoralized because of lack of reserves. The only way Europe can regain a normal share of this gold and restore her monetary position is selling us merchandise. The presence of this abnormal over-supply of gold in the United States threatens renewed inflation of the dollar, a danger

British Secret Tests May Affect Construction of Two New

LONDON, July 7.—While the Committee of Imperial Defense is giving greater attention to the question of organizing the air defense of the British Isles than at any time since largely due to the desire to anticipate the possibility of a surprise attack by airplane depth bombs, which are expected to have a far-reaching influence on the construction of two 25,000-ton vessels with a capacity to withstand pressure from depth bombs far in excess of that of any present warship.

The delay in starting construction of the two battleships is understood to be largely due to the desire to ascertain the results of the tests about to be held aboard the battleship Superb and the monitor Gordon.

HARDING APPEALS FOR SOLIDARITY OF PARTY

President Makes Address in 20-Hour Stop-Over in Columbus.

By the Associated Press.

COLUMBUS, O., July 7.—With Uniontown, Pa., as his probable destination for the night, President Harding left here early today on the second lap of his automobile journey from Marion to Washington. The President's party expected to follow the National road with a stop at New Concord, O., where an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws was to be conferred on the President by Muskingum College.

Address Made at Open Air Banquet of Glee Club.

A 20-hour stopover in Columbus offered Mr. Harding the opportunity last night, in an extemporaneous address at an open air banquet celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of the Columbus Republican Glee Club, of which he was made a life member, to make a vigorous appeal for party solidarity.

In his appeal yesterday for harmony in the ranks of the Republican party, the President declared that too many who profess to be Republicans were attempting to "attract attention to themselves" instead of working for the good of their party and country.

The President said he did not care to be a "solist," but added that someone had to act as director, otherwise there would be no harmony.

GANDHI, IN JAIL, URGES FRIENDS TO CONTINUE WORK

Nationalist Says His Loss of Liberty Cannot Materially Affect Progress of Movement in India.

Correspondence of the Associated Press.
AHMEDABAD, India, June 5.—Mahatma Gandhi, in prison here for sedition, declares his loss of liberty cannot materially affect the progress of India nationalism, and urges his friends to carry on the work in which he had so large a part. He has no complaint to make regarding his treatment by prison officials.

Gandhi remains loyal to the principle of Swadeshi, which he defines as "that spirit in us which restricts us to the use and service of our immediate surroundings, to the exclusion of the more remote." In religion he would follow only the forms of worship used by his ancestors; in politics, he would use only things indigenous institutions; in economic life, he would use only things produced by his immediate neighbors, and would serve only those industries which are native to his own country. He is at enmity with modern civilization.

Writing to a friend in India, Gandhi explains his beliefs and aims in these words:

"There is no impassable barrier between East and West. There is no such thing as Western or European civilization, but there is a modern civilization which is purely material. The people of Europe, before they were touched by modern civilization, had much in common with the people of the East.

"It is not the British people who are ruling India, but it is modern civilization, through its railways, telegraphs, telephones, and almost every invention which has been claimed to be a triumph of civilization. Bombay, Calcutta and the other chief cities of India are the real plague spots.

"If British rule were replaced tomorrow by Indian rule based on modern methods India would be no better, except that she would be able then to retain some of the money that is drained away to England; but then India would become only a second or fifth nation of Europe or America. East and West can only really meet when the West has thrown overboard modern civilization, almost in its entirety. They can also seemingly meet when the East has also adopted modern civilization, but that meeting would be an armed truce.

"Medical science is the concentrated essence of black magic. Quackery is infinitely preferable to what passes for high medical skill. Hospitals are the instruments that the devil has been using for his own purpose, in order to keep his hold on his kingdom. They perpetuate vice, misery, degradation and real slavery. If there were no hospitals for venereal diseases, or even for consumptives, we should have less consumption, and less sexual vice among us.

"India should wear no machine-made clothing, whether it comes out of European mills or Indian mills.

"India's salvation consists in unlearning what she has learned during the past 50 years. The railways, telegraphs, hospitals, lawyers, doctors and such like have all to go, and the so-called upper classes have to learn to live religiously and deliberately the simple peasant life, knowing it to be a life-giving true happiness.

"There was true wisdom in the sages of old having so regulated society as to limit the material condition of the people to the plow, of perhaps 5000 years ago is the plow of the husbandman today. Therein lies salvation. People live long under such conditions in comparative peace much greater than Europe has enjoyed after having taken up modern activity."

who, it is said, would be willing to settle if it would not embarrass the conference.

A report that Russian monarchists had plotted the assassination of Maxim Litvinoff and had been arrested was without foundation. In fact, both the Russians and the Dutch police say. No monarchists have been arrested either at the boundary or at The Hague, according to the police. Litvinoff walks about unaccompanied by detectives.

The charge made yesterday by M. Sokolnikov, Soviet Assistant Commissioner of Finance, that some of the delegates were seeking deliberately to hinder an accord with the Russians at The Hague, caused a ripple of excitement. It was discussed informally at yesterday's meetings of the non-Russian delegates. M. Sokolnikov's statement followed the appearance in one of the papers of an interview with M. Alphand, leading French expert, who was quoted as saying that it was extremely difficult to reach an agreement with the Russians, who wanted credits, not for economic reconstruction but for other purposes.

WOOD RIVER POLICE CHIEF SUSPENDED AFTER FIGHT

Officers Said to Have Had Uniform
Slashed by Knife—Full Report Ordered.

E. G. Holland, Chief of Police of Wood River, Ill., yesterday was suspended for five days by Mayor Otto F. Nagel, pending an investigation of an encounter he is alleged to have had with Ray Pemberton, an employe of the Standard Oil Co., in which

Pemberton is said to have slashed
the officer's uniform with a knife.
Mayor Nagel said today that Holland had admitted the encounter, but denied that it occurred because of a woman. Holland was ordered to make a written report to the Police Committee of the City Council, which will make further inquiry and report to the Council.

Injuries by Racing Car Fatal.
URBANA, Ill., July 7.—Harold Holl of Sadorus, near here, died late last night of injuries received when a racing automobile went through a fence, at the local fair grounds, July 4, and struck him and several others.

UPROAR IN REICHSTAG OVER DEFENSE BILL

Gallery Cleared After Applauding of Deputy's Reference to Hindenburg's Tour.

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, July 7.—Lively scenes have taken place in the Reichstag and the Prussian Landtag during discussions of the bill for the defense of the republic.

Deputy Cuno of the German Peoples' party, in a speech yesterday, referring to Field Marshal von Hindenburg's tour of East Prussia, drew applause from several occupants of the visitors' gallery, whereupon the Communists and Independents demanded that the gallery be cleared.
This caused an uproar, but the gallery eventually was emptied.

The uproar was renewed when another Deputy declared the army had been stabbed in the back. One of the Deputies of the Left tried to assault the speaker and the President suspended the sitting. It reassembled shortly after, but again adjourned.

In the Landtag, the German National Deputy, Hermann, offended members of the Left, who rushed to attack him. Hand-to-hand fighting then took place in front of the tribune. The President suspended the sitting, and on resumption moved suspension of the members who started the disturbance. This was adopted.

Order has been restored at Sommerhausen, where disturbances
by workmen broke out Tuesday. Several persons were wounded when the castle of Count Gnesau was stormed by workmen infuriated because the Imperial flag had been flown.

Chancellor Wirth has appealed to the population of Upper Silesia to refrain from molesting inter-allied troops during the evacuation of the province. The Chancellor's appeal followed fighting between civilians and French troops near Oppeln in which six persons were killed.

COURTMARTIAL SENTENCES OF MARINES ARE REDUCED

Punishment of Some Growing Out of Nicaragua Affray Set Aside Altogether.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 7.—Court martial sentences in the cases of the marines who last December "shot up" Managua, Nicaragua, have in some cases been set aside and in other cases reduced, according to an announcement yesterday by Acting Secretary Roosevelt, of the Navy Department, on his review of the general court martial records.

The three who led the affray with natives and police, during which a number of the police were killed, have had their sentences, aggregating 40, 38 and 35 years, respectively, reduced to 20 years from March 6
last.

Fifteen privates, whose sentences ranged from 8 to 12 years, have received reductions of from 10 to 2 years.

Conviction in the cases of 12 privates was set aside by the reviewing authorities, for lack of evidence.

MARTIAL LAW AT VERA CRUZ FOLLOWING TENANTS' OUTBREAKS

Clashes With Authorities Led by Women—Founder of Syndicate Imprisoned on Criminal Charges.

By the Associated Press.
VERA CRUZ, July 7.—Martial law has been declared here after a series of the clashes between the police, soldiers and members of the red union of revolutionary tenants.
Heron Proal, founder and director of the syndicate, is confined in the military prison, having been arrested on charges of homicide and sedition. The charges grew out of the killing of several soldiers and policemen who intervened in the dispute between rival factions in the union,
one party accusing Proal of misappropriating the organization's funds.
The rioters were led by women radicals who are said to have insulted the soldier guards and attempted to incite the syndicalists to storm
the prison and rescue Proal. Newspapers are demanding that the authorities take drastic steps to prevent further bloodshed.

BRAZILIAN REBELS SURRENDER

Revolt Officially Declared to Have Been Overcome.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 7.—Military insurgents who yesterday seized Fortress Copacabana, outside of Rio Janeiro, have surrendered, the Brazilian embassy was notified in a message last night.

By the Associated Press.
RIO JANEIRO, July 7.—Announcement is made by the Government that the last resistance of the insurgents in Fortress Copacabana ceased at 3:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Federal forces entered the fort a few minutes later. The revolt, it is officially stated, has now been completely stamped out. The newspapers declared that after a short bombardment of Copacabana
by warships the fortress surrendered and that Capt. Encydes Fonseca, leader of the revolt, was made prisoner.

LIQUOR CONVICTION IN ST. CLAIR

The first jury in the St. Clair County Court to try a liquor law violation case yesterday returned a verdict of guilty against Ewald Ren-hoff, who was charged with having liquor in his possession. The jury was out five minutes.

Renhoff was indicted with Fred Feener and Ott. Petoewsky on charges of having liquor and transporting it. A jug of "moonshine"

was found in their machine when an accident occurred on the Smithton road, on Sept. 5. Feener pleaded guilty and was fined $100 and costs.
Petoewsky failed to appear for trial yesterday and his bond of $500 was declared forfeited. Renhoff acted as his own attorney when the case against him was tried. He stated on the stand that he conducted a saloon in Belleville, which was raided by prohibition enforcement officers, who found some "moonshine." Ren-hoff was fined $100 and costs by Judge Messick, and in default was sent to jail. A sample of the liquor was handed the jury "for smelling purpose only."

The STORY OF MANKIND

by PROF. HENDRIK VAN LOON

Publication of this absorbingly interesting story of the human race was begun Monday, May 29, in the Post Dispatch. Back numbers can be had on application at the Post-Dispatch business office.

EVENTUALLY the Holy Alliance was signed by the Emperor of Austria, who did not understand a word of it. It was signed by the Bourbons who needed the friendship of Napoleon's old enemies. It was signed by the King of Prussia, who hoped to gain Alexander for his plans for a "greater Prussia," and by all the little nations of Europe who were at the mercy of Russia. England never signed, because Castlereagh thought the whole thing unbecoming. The Pope did not sign because he resented this interference in his business by a Greek Orthodox and a Protestant. And the Sultan did not sign because he never heard of it.

The general mass of the European people, however, soon were forced to take notice. Behind the hollow phrases of the Holy Alliance stood the armies of the Quintuple Alliance which Metternich had created among the great Powers. These armies meant business. They let it be known that the peace of Europe must not be disturbed by the so-called liberals who were in reality nothing but disguised Jacobins, and hoped for a return of the revolutionary days. The enthusiasm for the great wars of liberation of the years 1812, 1813, 1814 and 1815 had begun to wear off. It had been followed by a sincere belief in the coming of a happier day. The soldiers who had borne the brunt of the battle wanted peace and they said so.

But they did not want the sort of peace which the Holy Alliance and the Council of the European Powers had now bestowed upon them. They cried that they had been betrayed. But they were careful lest they be heard by a secret-police spy. The reaction was victorious. It was a reaction caused by men who sincerely believed that their methods were necessary for the good of humanity. But it was just as hard to bear as if their intentions had been less kind. And it caused a great deal of unnecessary suffering and greatly retarded the orderly progress of political development.

THE GREAT REACTION.

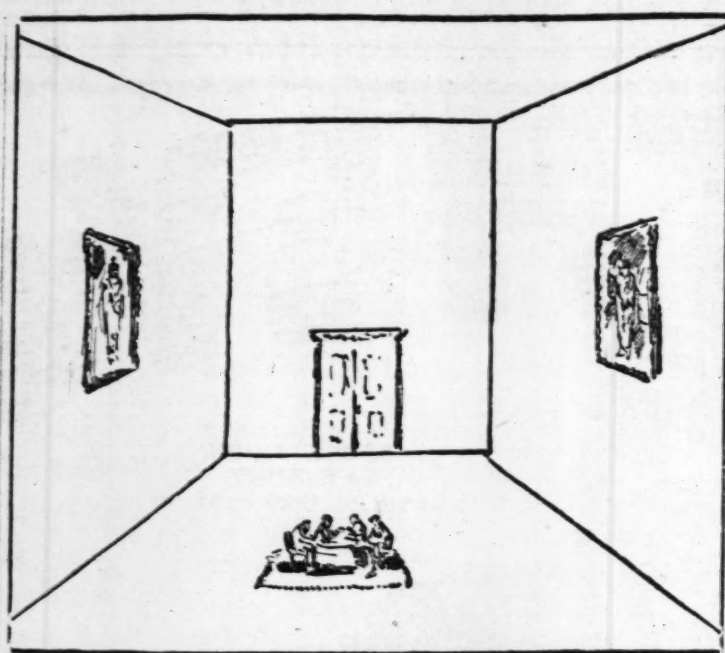

They tried to assure the World an Era of Undisturbed Peace by suppressing All New Ideas. They Made the Police-Spy the Highest Functionary in the State and Soon the Prisons of All Countries Were Filled With Those Who Claimed That People Have the Right to Govern Themselves as They See Fit.

TO undo the damage done by the great Napoleonic flood was almost impossible. Age-old fences had been washed away. The palaces of two score dynasties had been damaged to such an extent that they had to be condemned as uninhabitable. Other royal residences had been greatly enlarged at the expense of less fortunate neighbors. Strange odds and ends of revolutionary doctrine had been left behind by the receding waters and could not be dislodged without danger to the entire community. But the political engineers of the Congress did the best they could and this is what they accomplished.

France had disturbed the peace of the world for so many years that people had come to fear that country almost instinctively. The Bourbons, through the mouth of Talleyrand, had promised to be good, but the Hundred Days had taught Europe what to expect should Napoleon manage to escape for a second time. The Dutch republic, therefore, was changed into a kingdom, and Belgium (which had not joined the Dutch struggle for independence in the sixteenth century and since then had been part of the Hapsburg domains, first under Spanish rule and thereafter under Austrian rule) was made part of this new kingdom of the Netherlands. Nobody wanted this union either in the Protestant North or in the Catholic South, but no questions were asked. It seemed good for the peace of Europe and that was the main consideration.

Poland had hoped for great things because a Pole, Prince Adam Czartoryski, was one of the most intimate friends of Tsar Alexander and had been his constant advisor during the war and at the Congress of Vienna. But Poland was made a semi-independent part of Russia with Alexander as her King. This solution pleased no one and caused much bitter feeling and three revolutions.

Denmark, which had remained a faithful ally of Napoleon until the end, was severely punished. Seven years before, an English fleet had sailed down the Kattegat and without a declaration of war or any warning had bombarded Copenhagen and had taken away the Danish fleet, lest it be of value to Napoleon. The Congress of Vienna went one step further. It took Norway (which since the union of Calmar of the year 1397 had been united with Denmark) away from Denmark and gave it to Charles XIV of Sweden as a reward for his betrayal of Napoleon, who had set him up in the king business. This Swedish King, curiously enough, was a former French General by the name of Bernadotte, who had come to Sweden as one of Napoleon's adjutants.

THE REAL CONGRESS OF VIENNA.

and had been invited to the throne of that good country when the last of the rulers of the house of Holslein-Gottorp had died without leaving either son or daughter. From 1815 until 1844 he ruled his adopted country (the language of which he never learned) with great ability. He was a clever man and enjoyed the respect of both his Swedish and his Norwegian subjects, but he did not succeed in joining two countries which nature and history had put asunder. The dual Scandinavian state was never a success and in 1905, Norway, in a most peaceful and orderly manner, set up as an independent kingdom, and the Swedes bade her "good speed" and very wisely let her go her own way.

The Italians, who since the days of the Renaissance had been at the mercy of a long series of invaders, also had put great hopes in Gen. Bonaparte. The Emperor Napoleon, however, had grievously disappointed them. Instead of the united Italy which the people wanted, they had been divided into a number of little principalities, duchies, republics and the Papal State, which (next to Naples) was the worst governed and most miserable region of the entire peninsula. The Congress of Vienna abolished a few of the Napoleonic republics and in their place resurrected several old principalities which were given to deserving members, both male and female, of the Hapsburg family.

The poor Spaniards, who had started the great nationalistic revolt against Napoleon, and who had sacrificed the best blood of the country for their King, were punished severely when the Congress allowed his majesty to return to his domains.

The poor Spaniards, who had started the great nationalistic revolt against Napoleon, and who had sacrificed the best blood of the country for their King, were punished severely when the Congress allowed his majesty to return to his domains.

This vicious creature, known as Ferdinand VII, had spent the last four years of his life as a prisoner of Napoleon. He had improved his days by knitting garments for the statues of his favorite patron saints. He celebrated his return by reintroducing the inquisition and the torture chamber, both of which had been abolished by the Revolution. He was a disgusting person, despised as much by his subjects as by his four wives, but the Holy Alliance maintained him upon his legitimate throne and all efforts of the decent Spaniards to get rid of this curse and make Spain a constitutional kingdom ended in bloodshed and executions.

Portugal had been without a King since the year 1807, when the royal family had fled to the colonies in Brazil. The country had been used as a base of supply for the armies of Wellington during the Peninsula War, which lasted from 1808 until 1814. After 1815 Portugal continued to be a sort of British province until the house of Braganza returned to the throne, leaving one of its members behind in Rio de Janeiro as Emperor of Brazil, the only American empire which lasted for more than a few years, and which came to an end in 1889, when the country became a republic.

In the East, nothing was done to improve the terrible conditions of both the Slavs and the Greeks who were still subjects of the Sultan. In the year 1804 Black George, a Serbian swineherd (the founder of the Karageorgevich dynasty) had started a revolt against the Turks, but he had been defeated by his enemies and had been murdered by one of his supposed friends, the rival Serbian leader, called Milosh Obrenovic.

vich (who became the founder of the Obrenovich dynasty), and the Turks had continued to be the undisputed masters of the Balkans.

The Greeks, who since the loss of their independence, 2000 years before, had been subjects of the Macedonians, the Romans, the Venetians and the Turks, had hoped that their countryman, Capo d'Istria, a native of Corfu and together with Count Rusk, the most intimate personal friends of Alexander, would do something for them. But the Congress of Vienna was not interested in Greeks, but was very much interested in keeping all "legitimate" monarchs, Christian, Moslem and otherwise, upon their respective thrones. Therefore nothing was done.

The last, but perhaps the greatest blunder of the Congress was the treatment of Germany. The Reformers of the Thirty Years War had not only destroyed the prosperity of the country, but had turned it into a hopeless political rubbish heap, consisting of a couple of kingdoms, a few grand-duchies, a large number of duchies and hundreds of magistrates, principalities, baronies, electorates, free cities and free villages, ruled by the strangest assortment of potentates that was ever seen off the comic opera stage. Frederick the Great had changed this when he created a strong Prussia, but this state had not survived him by many years.

Napoleon had blue-penciled the demand for independence of these little countries, and only 52 out of a total of more than 300 had survived the year 1806. During the years of the great struggle for independence, many a young soldier had dreamed of a new fatherland that should be strong and united. But there can be no union without a strong leadership, and who was to be this leader?

There were five kingdoms in the German speaking lands. The rulers of two of these, Austria and Prussia, were Kings by the grace of God. The rulers of three others, Bavaria, Saxony and Wurttemberg, were Kings by the grace of Napoleon, and as they had been the faithful henchmen of the Emperor, their patriotic credit with the other Germans was therefore not very good.

The Congress had established a new German confederation, a league of 35 sovereign states, under the chairmanship of the King of Austria, who was now known as the Emperor of Austria. It was the sort of makeshift arrangement which satisfied no one. It is true that a German Diet, which met in the old coronation city of Frankfurt, had been created to discuss matters of "common policy and importance." But in this Diet 38 delegates represented 35 different interests and as no decision could be taken without a unanimous vote (a parliamentary rule which had in previous centuries ruined the mighty kingdom of Poland), the famous German Confederation became very soon the laughing stock of Europe and the politics of the old empire began to resemble those of our Central American neighbors in the forties and the fifties of the last century.

It was terribly humiliating to the people who had sacrificed everything for a national ideal. But the Congress was not interested in the private feelings of "subjects," and the debate was closed.

Did anybody object? Most assuredly. As soon as the first feeling of hatred against Napoleon had quieted down—as soon as the enthusiasm of the great war had subsided—as soon as the people came to a full realization of the crime that had been committed in the name of "peace and stability" they began to murmur. They even made threats of open revolt. But what could they do? They were powerless. They were at the mercy of the most pitiless and efficient police system the world had ever seen.

The members of the Congress of Vienna honestly and sincerely believed that "the revolutionary principle had led to the criminal usurpation of the throne by the former Emperor Napoleon." They felt that they were called upon to eradicate the adherents of the so-called "French ideas" just as Philip II had only followed the voice of his conscience when he burned Protestants or hanged Moors. In the beginning of the sixteenth century a man who did not believe in the divine right of the Pope to rule his subjects as he saw fit was "heretic" and it was the duty of all loyal citizens to kill him. In the beginning of the nineteenth century, on the continent of Europe, a man who did not believe in the divine right of his King to rule him as he or his Prime Minister saw fit was a "heretic," and it was the duty of all loyal citizens to denounce him to the nearest policeman and see that he got punished.

But the rulers of the year 1815 had learned efficiency in the school of Napoleon and they performed their task much better than it had been done in the year 1517. The period between the year 1815 and the year 1850 was the great era of the political spy. Spies were everywhere. They lived in palaces and they were to be found in the lowest gin shops. They peeped through the keyholes of the Ministerial Cabinets and they listened to the conversations of the people who were taking the air on the benches of the Municipal Park. They guarded the frontier so that no one might leave without a duly vided passport and they inspected all packages, that no books with dangerous "French ideas" should enter the realm of their royal masters. They sat among the students in the lecture hall and woe to the professor who uttered a word against the existing order of things. They followed the little boys and girls on their way to church lest they play hooky.

In many of these tasks they were assisted by the clergy. The church had suffered greatly during the days of the revolution. The church property had been confiscated. Several priests had been killed and the generation that had learned its catechism from Voltaire and Rousseau and the other French philosophers had danced around the Altar of Reason when the Committee of Public Safety had abolished the worship of God in October of the year 1793. The priests had followed the "emigres" into their long exile. Now they returned in the wake of the allied armies and they set to work with a vengeance.

Even the Jesuits came back in 1814 and resumed their former labors of educating the young. Their order had been a little too successful in its fight against the enemies of the church. It had established "provinces" in every part of the world, to teach the natives the blessings of Christianity, but soon it had developed into a regular trading company which was forever interfering with the civil authorities. During the reign of the Marquis de Pombal, the great reforming minister of Portugal, they had been driven out of the Portuguese lands and in the year 1773, at the request of most of the Catholic Powers of Europe, the order had been suppressed by Pope Clement XIV. Now they were back on the job, and preached the principles of "obedience" and "love for the legitimate dynasty" to children whose parents had hired shop windows that they might laugh at Marie Antoinette driving to the scaffold which was to end her misery.

But in Protestant countries like Prussia things were not a whit better. The great patriotic leaders of the year 1812, the poets and the writers who had preached a holy war upon the usurper, were now branded as dangerous "demagogues." Their houses were searched. Their letters were read. They were obliged to report to the police at regular intervals and give an account of themselves. The Prussian drill master was let loose in all the fury upon the younger generation. When a party of students celebrated the tercentenary of the Reformation with noisy but harmless festivities on the old Wartburg, the Prussian bureaucrats had visions of an imminent revolution. When a theological student, more honest than intelligent, killed a Russian Government spy who was operating in Germany, the universities were placed under police supervision and professors were jailed or dismissed without any form of trial.

Russia, of course, was even more absurd in these anti-revolutionary activities. Alexander had recovered from his attack of piety. He was gradually drifting toward melancholia. He well knew his own limitations and understood how Vienna had been the victim of Metternich and the Krudener woman. More and more he turned his back upon the west and became a truly Russian ruler whose interests lay in Constantinople, the old city that had been the first teacher of the Slavs. The older he grew the harder he worked and the less he was able to accomplish. And when he sat in his study, his mind turned the whole of Russia into a land of military barracks.

It is not a pretty picture. Perhaps I might have shortened this description of the Great Reaction. But it is just as well that you should have a thorough knowledge of this era, for it was not the first time that an attempt had been made to set the clock of history back. The result was the usual one.

News of the Business World

By Wire to the Post-Dispatch

DETROIT—July 1 usually has marked the turning point of annual production in the automobile factories of Detroit. Production usually has slackened after that date, but this year promises to be an exception. Promising fruit, sugar beet and bean crops, mounting bank deposits and the outlook for an active fall auto manufacturing season have re-energized business here.

One company has more unfilled car orders for July than it produced and sold in June, which was a record month. Another is sold out on closed cars up to some time in November. Another will not equal the May and June record in July because of the lesser number of working days, but the daily average production is being maintained. The same trend exists throughout the list of large producers.

On the basis of present industrial employment this activity means about $1,750,000 more a week spent here for food and clothing than in July, 1921. Merchants and wholesalers are watching the automobile outlook closely and laying plans accordingly. Railway officials report an increase in the freight movement this week, both inland and out-bound. Manager Shearer of the Michigan Central says his company started July with more business of all kinds than was carried in June.

ATLANTA INDICATIONS.
ATLANTA—Continued bank deposits throughout this district and heavy increases in deposits as compared with those of last year reflect a general improvement in commerce.

The gold reserve of the Sixth District Federal Reserve Bank, which remains above 80 per cent, reflects the ability of member banks to get along without discounting their paper, and collections are excellent. Bargain sales at the large department stores here are filling the establishments with shoppers, and merchants rapidly are clearing their shelves to make room for fall and winter goods. Wholesalers and jobbers report an improving demand for farming implements which are being bought in greater quantities than at any time since 1920.

The Government report on the condition of the cotton crop is taken here as confirming the belief that there will not be enough produced to supply the demand and has brightened the outlook for the farmer. The potential yield for Georgia is worth approximately $115,000,000 at the present price, and if that price is maintained the Georgia planters will be "sitting on top of the world" by September.

BUILDING IN EAST.
BOSTON—Much of the building contemplated this year in New England already has been contracted for so that new building permits are falling off slightly. Few of the permits, however, still is far ahead of a year ago. Building materials are in demand and construction costs are trending upward.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT.
NEW ORLEANS—Customs receipts for this port for the year ending June 30 were $4,000,000 larger than for the previous year and were the largest on record. Importations of sugar, which showed a great gain, represented about 60 per cent of these receipts. Reduction in port charges ranging from 15 to 25 per cent, effective on July 1, is tending to increase the business of the port still further.

GENERAL TOPICS.
PITTSBURG—Because of the building boom, plasterers have succeeded in forcing their wages from $1.12 1/2 to $1.25 an hour. Building contractors are paying as high as 90 cents an hour for common labor. Similar conditions obtain at Uniontown, where plasterers are expected to demand more money shortly.

NEW YORK—About $20,000 of the $100,000 voted by the International Ladies Garment Workers' Union to aid the United Mine Workers in the coal strike is expected to be made available at once. This is the first donation received by the miners from other unions.

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—The falling off of production in the Mid-Continent Oil field has resulted in strengthening prices which have been advancing for some time on crude oil and refined products. The oil industry may be said to have recovered fully from the destructive depression of a year ago.

SEATTLE—Harness and saddlery jobbers and manufacturers have done a heavy business for the last six months. Trade has been stimulated by the more prosperous condition of the small farmer and shows a great improvement over last year.

COTTON.
DALLAS—East Texas merchants in an effort to stimulate the fight against the boll weevil are offering a half cent each for dead weevils. At Sherman 7500 weevils were paid for in one day last week.

NONFERROUS METALS.
JOPLIN, Mo.—Comparison of the first six months of the year and the corresponding period of 1921 in the Tri State lead and zinc fields shows remarkable improvement. Shipments of zinc have totaled 454,000,000 pounds against less than 200,000,000 pounds last year. The money value of the shipment this year was $6,500,000 against $2,300,000 last year.

GRAIN.
CALGARY, Alberta.—Reports throughout the entire province indicate that crop conditions are extremely favorable. This has caused a decided return of optimism among the farmers.

ROCK PILED AND BRUSH PLANTED
FOR SNAKES ON GOLF LINKSBlacksnakes Said to Destroy Ground Moles and Kill Rattlers and Copperheads.By the Associated Press.
COATESVILLE, Pa., July 7.—
Blacksnakes seeking a comfortable home, rent and tax free, are invited to the golf links of the Coatesville Country Club. Along the sides of the course, underbrush has been permitted to grow thick, and tempting rock piles with full southern ex-posures have been placed to lure the snakes from adjacent lands.
An educational campaign has been inaugurated among golfers with an aversion to reptiles in order that there may be no repetition of the deaths by violence which came to two of the organization's pets.
Champions of the blacksnake declare that it is the best, efficient,
natural enemy of the ground moles,
which admittedly is the natural enemy of golf greens. Not only does the snake go right into the mole's borings, but is said to kill rattlersand copperheads. It is harmless to mankind and is unlikely to appear suddenly to disconcert a player about to putt, for it works at night.
$5 Robbery Fatal to Holdup Man.

mer Milwaukee dishwasher, who staged a spectacular single-handed holdup in a pawnshop and escaped with $1000, last night, was shot

DOLLAR BACK AFTER 27 YEARS

MONTESANO, Wash., July 7.—A dollar spent 27 years ago at Lancaster, Mo., returned to its original owner in Montesano recently.

When Mrs. Terrence Hagerman

was seven years of age her father gave her and her sister each a dollar coined in the years of their birth.
Mrs. Hagerman's dollar was coined in 1857. The sisters carved each others initials on the Goddess of Liberty's head on the dollars and the dollars were spent. Since then

Mrs. Hagerman has been looking for her dollar.
She made some purchases here
this week and a dollar she received as change was identified by the date, 1857, and her sister's initials, "I. F."
to be the dollar her father gave her

27 years before.
Mrs. Hagerman says she will not spend the dollar again.

Eggman Defeats County Champion For Junior Title

East Side Net Star, After Losing First Set, Takes Three Straight From Foe.

By Davison Obeart.

Teddy Eggman of East St. Louis won the junior tennis championship of the St. Louis District yesterday afternoon by defeating Bert Hopkins in the final round. The match was played on the Triple A courts and the score was 1-6, 6-3, 6-3, 7-5. Hopkins opened the first set by steady play and took six games while Eggman was winning one. The University City player made a number of excellent place and sending Eggman seemed erratic.

In the second set the East St. Louis star took the lead and kept it during the entire time. He had his fast service working and also showed more confidence in placing the ball. Hopkins was only able to win three games in this set, Eggman taking the set at 6-3.

Play in the third set was similar to the second. Hopkins tried hard to take the lead at this stage of the match, but was unable to do so. Eggman changed the pace at different times by coming into the net, smashing the ball across court for earned points.

Hopkins Beats in Final Set. With the score two sets to one against him, Hopkins sprang a surprise by taking a lead in the fourth set. He won four games while Eggman captured one. With the score 4-1 the East St. Louis player headed and won three straight games. Hopkins took the next game and threatened to win the set, but Eggman rallied and won the next three games and the set at 7-5.

Last year Eggman won the boys' singles tournament. This was his first junior event and he won after eliminating Bert Hopkins, the county high school champion; Herbert Weinstein, the Solidus champion; Jack Smith, also of Solidus and several other junior stars.

The junior doubles final will be played this afternoon at 4 o'clock on the Triple A courts. Eggman and Rose will oppose Weinstein and Smith for the title.

CHICAGO GIVES THREE MEN FOR ONE IN TRADE

CHICAGO, July 7.—Earl Adams of the Wichita Falls club, leading in the Texas League, has been obtained by the Chicago Nationals for three players and a sum of money. Adams will report to the club at the close of the Texas season.

As part payment for the star, pitcher Alex Freeman has been loaned outright to Wichita Falls, and pitcher Victor Kean received from the Toronto club of the International League, and Arthur Weiss, outfielder who was with the St. Paul club of the American Association, also was returned to Chicago, and who went to the Texas club, subject to recall.

McKECHNIE DAY TO BE CELEBRATED BY FANS

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 7.—Bill McKechnie, new manager of the Pittsburgh Nationals, will be honored at a Purcell Field here on July 13 when Purcell followers will observe "McKechnie day."

The Giants got off to a flying start on their Western invasion by winning Pittsburgh, 6 to 3.

Mrs. Mallory and Mlle. Lenglen to Play in Net Final

American Champion and French Girl Won Matches Today in Semifinals Round.

By the Associated Press.

WIMBLEDON, July 7.—Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, woman's singles champion, will play in the final match of the all-comers open championship tournament. This was made certain today, when both won their matches in the semifinals. It will be the second meeting between Mrs. Mallory and Mlle. Lenglen, who last year in the United States, Mlle. Lenglen retired after losing the first set to the U. S. champion.

In the semifinals today, Mrs. Mallory defeated Mrs. Beamish of England, 6-2, 6-2, while Mlle. Lenglen won from Mrs. Peacock, another English player, 6-4, 6-1.

English player to today's match. Mrs. Beamish had twice defeated Mrs. Mallory this season.

Rain interfered with the Mlle. Lenglen-Mrs. Peacock match and it was stopped for a time after the French girl had won the first set and was leading 4-1 in the second.

In the men's semifinals, Randolph Lycett, Great Britain, won his match in the semifinals, defeating J. E. Gilbert, Great Britain, in straight sets.

Red Sox' Owner Postponed Double Bill to Aid Yanks, Browns' Official Charges

Vice President Walter Fritsch Has Photographs Taken of Baseball Grounds and Will Exhibit Them at League Meeting to Prove Both Games Yesterday Could Have Been Played.

By J. Roy Stockton,
Of the Post-Dispatch Sport Staff.

BOSTON, July 7.—When major league magnates meet next winter, Phil Ball and Walter Fritsch of the Browns will take the floor and tell of the incidents in Boston yesterday and demand that the power to call off games because of rain and wet grounds be taken from the hands of club owners and put in the hands of the umpires.

No umpire in any league would have called off the scheduled double-header yesterday and nobody in Boston believed it was possible that the fine sunny afternoon would be let pass without a single game. But despite the bright sun that had the gold in a near dry condition by 5 o'clock the Browns loated about the town and accumulated grouches.

There were plenty to fan the flames
of their discontent and last night
all the players were calling for Harry Fritsch's blood.

In their speech to the big league owners Ball and Fritsch will also ask that the revised rule make it necessary to wait until an hour before game time before calling off a contest. Had that been done today, both ends of the double bill would have been played.

Fritsch Explains Charges
"Fritsch's purpose is too obvious to need pointing out," said Fritsch, vice president of the club, who is making the trip with the Browns.

ries and three double-headers in

Indians Are Due for a Real Shaking Up Before 1923 Season

Ambition Seems to Be Total Stranger With Speaker's Club This Year—Infield Slow and Uncertain and Pitchers Have Faltered.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, July 7.—Between now and the start of another campaign the Cleveland Indians are due for a shaking up such as the good old bottle of family cure-all never received. They are merely the shell of the championship machine that jauntily belabored the Brooklyn Dodgers in the 1920 world's championship series. The Speaker is not the man to accept the situation with anything resembling philosophical calm.

Speaker declined today to indicate
what he intended to do, if anything, but baseball men will tell you for the asking that at least four of his veterans are putting in their last year with the Indians. Age, the great leveler, has claimed the Indians. Speaker professes to see it differently.

"My pitchers have failed to round to," he declared, "and everybody knows that a ball club can't get anywhere without good pitching. The injuries to players like Stephenson and O'Neill have kept the club down and I myself was out of the game with illness. I hope to get the team into its stride during the present trip."

Yet anyone who saw the Indians finish second to the Yanks in a pair of starts yesterday will venture this is whistling a brave tune over a dead cause. The ex-champions and ambition seem to be a total stranger, and not without reason. They cannot help but realize, Speaker included, that the club is headed nowhere in particular.

Infield Slow and Uncertain.
The infield, which dazzled the Dodgers in the 1920 series, is now slow and uncertain; the pitchers, harrying Coveleskie, are going never to return and Speaker himself is about down to the last chip. He can still go and get them in center field and he will be a hitter to the end of his days, but the strain on his aged legs is perhaps too great for another campaign.

The staff of alleged pitchers will come in for the greatest overhauling between seasons. Bagby seems to be over and done with, also Both-erson, likewise Mills. They might pitch one good game in four starts, but that isn't enough. Guy Morton also shoots one from the hip occa-

RED SOX PLAYERS HAVE TOUGH JOB IN WATCHING BALL AND WAVING AT PALS

Whenever the Boston Red Sox
leave the city of peculiar dialect, baked beans and crooked streets, the majority of the boys are as jubilant
as a sick actor when the final curtain goes down.

They have the feeling that one experiences in starting out to visit the old home town. Any old place they hang the haberdashery is home, sweet home to most of them, and the Sox outfit carries players from every team in the American League.

Take George Burns, for instance.
George is at home in Detroit, Cleveland or Philadelphia, while Elmer Smith gets a stiff neck from bowing to all his old friends in Washington and Cleveland.
Del Pratt has played with the Yanks and the St. Louis Browns.
Joe Dugan is a former Athletic.
Harry Leibold and John Collins used to wear the white Sox in Chicago. Joe Harris has a speaking acquaintance with Tris Speaker and many Indian ball fans, for Joe was one of the tribe in days gone by.

Fuel teamed with the Yanks for a spell, as did Alfred Walters, and Warren Collins is another bird who,
at one time, did his stuff in New York under the Yankee banner. Likewise Jack Quinn—the Sox lineup reads almost like a Manhattan telephone directory.

Pennock barked with the Athletics
once upon a time.
It's small wonder that the lads are glad to get out on the road, but when you stop to figure out just what is wrong with the Boston team, remember this: It's a tough job to keep your eye on the ball and wave a friendly hand to a lot of old pals in the grand stand at the same time.

Peoria Four Wins Protested Race in Southwestern Regatta

Centrals of St. Louis Second—Hartman Captures Singles—Detroit Boat Club Wins Championship With Total of 23 Points.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
PEORIA, Ill., July 7.—If someone distributed horse shoes to boat clubs entered in the Southwestern Rowing Association regatta before the races started Wednesday they forgot the Ivy Club of Peoria in their giving.

After copping the junior four-oared one mile event opening day, the Peorians were forced to race again this morning because of a protest filed against a St. Louis club by Detroit.

Again today somebody raised a kick after the two Peoria crews finished one-three in the race and for a minute it looked as though the local athletes would again be left in the lurch. The officials, however, ruled that the race would stand as it was finished and the Ivy Club shot up four notches in the point standing.

Leading the field by three lengths at the seven-eighths mile post, the Peoria crews, Nos. 1 and 2, tangled ears and before they could straighten themselves out the rest of the crews were atop them.

Sensational Recovery Made.
In a sensational recovery, seldom seen on water course, the crew
No. 2 stepped to the front, racing across the finish line winner by a half length. Central of St. Louis placed second and Crew No. 1 of the Ivy Club was third.

Claiming a foul by the St. Louis Boat Club crew, the Badens of St.
Louis presented a protest to the referee after the race. The complaint was disallowed, however. The Badens came in fourth.

S. B. Hartman of Detroit spun down the course with a two-length lead in the quarter-mile dash for single shells in the third race of the morning and proved an easy winner.
Kortlander of Cedar Rapids and Salem of Lincoln Park, Chicago, finished second and third, with Clark of Detroit an extremely close fourth.
The last three boats were less than three feet apart at the finish.

Detroit Wins Doubles.
The doubles crews were well bunched all the way down the river, but at the three-quarter mark
the Detroit crew crept away from the favorites of Grand Rapids and the rest of the field and won by a length of open water.

Practically the same crews took the water this morning for the junior four, which was postponed from the first day, as raced in the senior four yesterday afternoon. This was made possible by the judges' decision that competition in the senior four should not eliminate a team that would have been in the junior races.

PEORIA, Ill., July 7.—Summary of races
this morning:
Junior four-oared shell, one mile—Won by Peoria, Crew No. 2 (Leo Weber, stroke; Art Loughlin, Louvan Brown, Elmer Flood,
bow); Central Boat Club (Wm. Kalz, stroke; O. Armoniet, A. Schulz, H. Schneider, second); Peoria Crew No. 1 (Howard Raymond, stroke; E. W. Moeller, W. Brenneiser, W.
Elesener, bow), third. Time, 7:04.
Quarter mile dash for singles—Won by Hartman of Detroit; Kortlander of Grand Rapids Boat Club, second; Salem of Lincoln Park Boat Club, third. Time, 1:30 1/5.
Senior doubles, one mile—First, Detroit (Noack, bow; Hartman, stroke); second, Grand Rapids (Kortlander, bow; Peterson, stroke); third, Lincoln Park (Green, stroke; Salem, bow). Time, 9:44 1/5.
Detroit High Point Scorer.
The Detroit Boat Club scoring in a majority of the events, won high honors, with 23 points. The Grand Rapids Boat and Canoe Club was second and the Illinois Valley Yacht and Canoe Club of Peoria third.

The teams finished with the following points:
CLUB Points
Detroit 23
Grand Rapids 12
Illinois Valley Yacht and Canoe
(Peoria) 8
Lincoln Park (Chicago) 7
North End (St. Louis) 6
Central (St. Louis) 5
St. Louis Club 4
Century (St. Louis) 4
Western (St. Louis) 3
Baden (St. Louis) 1

The Century senior eight-oared crew was a big disappointment to its backers this morning when, after leading by three or four lengths for three-fourths of a mile, it gave way to the Grand Rapids and Detroit aggregations in the final half mile sprint. Detroit and Grand Rapids raced together from the rear of the field at the half way point to overcome the Missourians at the miler post. Grand Rapids finally shooting into the lead to win by a half boat length. The Centuries finished three lengths behind Detroit.

Detroit cleaned up in the senior singles one-mile event, by placing

Dundee Outpoints Sharkey Handily

Junior Lightweight Champion
Floors but Fails to Stop
His Opponent.

By Bert Igooe.

NEW YORK, July 7.—Johnny Dundee skipped through 15 rounds of clever boxing against Jack Sharkey at Ebbets Field last night, and came away from there with nary a jewel in his 130-pound title belt disturbed. Dundee got the decision in a bout that was decidedly one-sided.
Sharkey made a game attempt to wrest the title from the dancing Italian, but missed the mark by a mile,
that poured from Sharkey to the standstill. Jack was tired at the end, but by clinching and occasionally making a spiteful rally, he managed to hear the final bell.

At times the fray waxed so slow that the innocents squawked loudly.
They seemed to think from the bleats that Dundee was a counter following a left hook missed by Sharkey. He slapped him with everything but his shoe laces, and when he tried to bring Sharkey down, the latter would turn back, crouched to both hands in surprising fashion.

Sharkey went down in the fourth round from a right-hand blow on the jaw. The punch was a counter following a left hook missed by Sharkey. The punch brought Jack to his haunches with a bump. He looked dazed, grinned and then got up before the timekeeper had started to count.

Dundee was all but punched out of the ring in the fifth round when Sharkey charged like a lion. A right to the jaw sent Johnny half way through the ropes. But he recovered and was going pell mell at the bell.

Sharkey wasn't up to Dundee's class. Weights—Sharkey, 127; Dundee, 123.

Quimet to Play In National Open Golf Tournament

310 Stars Are Listed to Compete in Event at Skokie Club Next Week.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, July 7.—Word received from New York this morning brought the information that Francis Quimet of Boston, former national and open champion, had entered the national "open" tournament, which will be played on the Skokie course here next week. Business affairs had made Quimet's entry uncertain.

Leading golfers who came here in advance to practice for the tourney, praying for par scores, are now yearning for rain. The fast fairways make par easy if drives do not skid into sand traps, but make the golfer, treacherous and the ultimate result largely dependent on luck.

Scarcely a drop of rain has fallen for 40 days. The putting greens are fine as a result of watering. William Mehlhorn of Shreveport has shot
the 6548-yard links in 66, and yesterday three men made the course in 68, while three more took 69, as against the par of 70. An inexpertly scored at first credited the 66 to Leo Diegel of New Orleans, who covered the 18 holes in 68.

McDonald Makes Long Drives.
Bob MacDonald, one of the longest drivers in the world, had some drives that neared the 400-yard mark, and it remains to be seen how far Abe Mitchell of Great Britain will be able to shoot when he begins practice.
Mitchell and George Duncan unleashed their clubs at a nearby course yesterday, scoring 74 and 72, respectively.

Neither Jim Barnes of New York, present titleholder, or Walter Hagan of Detroit, British open champion, have tried the Skokie links.

There is an unusually fine field of golfers entered in the event. Three hundred and ten men are listed to start, with a dozen more in prospect.
All the crack amateurs of the country will be there, including Jess Gulford of Boston, national champion; Bobby Jones of Atlanta, Southern champion, and "Chick" Evans of Chicago, Western champion for the seventh time.

If the sub-par scoring keeps up during the tournament, Walter Hagan will have to shoot some remarkable golf to win the title for the third time and perform the unparalleled trick of taking both the British and the American titles in one year.

News and Comment
—SPECIAL DAILY—

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, July 7.—The stock market today had to face the test of heavy profit-taking following Thursday's rise and besides this another severe slump in the stocks of Mexican oil companies. On the whole it met this test successfully.

The day started in with another outburst of buying in railway stocks and bonds, carrying many of them through their previous high points of the year. This advance on a day naturally invited realizing sales on a large scale. Under these, the railway list fell back a half point to a point. The same was true of the copper stocks, which were quite strong in the early part of the day but which later yielded somewhat under the clearing out of speculative accounts showing their holders a profit.

As these two sets of stocks fell back, others were taken up. Both raw and refined sugar quotations were marked up again and this was the occasion for fresh buying in the sugar stocks. Along with the sugar went a number of industrial specialties and several of the public utility group. Even within the Mexican oil were in the midst of their decline there was an immediate offset in the shape of great strength in the Standard oil, which communicated itself to the stocks of other oil companies. Later on Standard was bid up to a new high.

The storm center of the Mexican oil stocks lay in the Mexican Seaboard lines, which fell in on the Curb Exchange. Here there was a further break of 10 points following an equally violent fall on Wednesday.

The weakness in German and French exchange continued. Mark exchange got down to a new low of 18.75 francs at 9:45 time this year and have been at city level since last December. The decline of the mark is not surprising after the further 1,000,000,000 note expansion reported in the latest Reichbank statement.

Buying of the copper stocks was resumed in the late afternoon on the report that no copper metal was for sale under 14c pound. The can stocks were in demand and so were the shares of mail order companies. Both these groups were leaders in the last hour.

The Bond Market.

Heavy trading in Liberty bonds kept on today and the movement of prices in this group was representative of the general trend of the market throughout the session.

Government securities were bid up in the first two hours, then profit taking set in and activity diminished gradually to the point of dullness in mid-afternoon. Railway bonds also made further advances, or at least held, as Thursday's highest level. Foreign external loans did scarcely anything more while the industrial list developed a few interesting incidents.

Among the railway bonds to reach new high prices for the year were the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy general 4s, New York Central debenture 4s, Kansas City Southern 4s and the Big Four 4s, series A. Pennsylvania 6 1/2s were less than a point from their top for 1922. St. Louis & San Francisco 4 1/2s, Chicago & Alton 3 1/2s, Union Pacific 4s and Erie all rose a fraction of a point to a point.

Northern 7s got below 107.

In the industrial section there was no important weakness in the oil bonds, such as Pan-American 7s, which were off only slightly. Consolidated gas 7s got to their highest of the year. Brooklyn Edison 4s and International Mercantile Marine 4s both were strong.

Dominion of Canada issues in the foreign group were irregular. Denmark 8s were soft and the United Kingdom 5 1/2s were sold down. The 1937 loan went below 105.

The advance of the $15,000,000 Detroit City Gas Co. issue of first mortgage gold bonds, series A, bearing 6 per cent interest, reported the bonds were all taken. The offering price was 97 1/2 and interest 6.20 per cent. The Chicago Sanitary District $3,000,000 issue of 4 per cent was put out to yield 4 to 5 per cent.

American Oils.

Nearly all American oil stocks came in for attention at rising prices, but the movement in the group entirely centered around the Standard Oil, especially Standard Oil of California and Standard Oil of Indiana on the Curb. These two stocks went up together and in this instance it would appear that the primary move is in the Indiana shares, while that in the California shares has been secondary.

Record production by Standard Oil of Indiana shares here and this apparent increase the inducement for a new pool formed in the stock several weeks ago to take hold of.

Sugar Stocks.

Sugar stocks had another burst in the announcement of a further rise in raw sugar prices to a new high for the year.

Financial Notes.

The Warner Sugar Refining Co. has bought 20,000 bags of Cuban raw sugar at 3 1/2-3 3/4 cents a pound. This is an advance of 1-3/4c.

The American Railway Association reports a decrease of 13,187 life cars on June 23, as compared with June 15 of the year, of 4,074 cars. Life, 173,389 were bad order cars.

Car loadings for the week of June 24 sent the highest of the year, 1,000,000, or 102,400 more than for the similar period last year.

The Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. has authorized bond and mortgage loans amounting to $5,000,000. Of this amount, more than $3,000,000 was for housing.

The May earnings of the Glidden Co. after depreciation and all charges amounted to $137,389, or at the annual rate of $1,648,468. After preferred dividends this is equal to $3.60 a share, the no par common stock outstanding. The June sales were the largest in the company's history.

It was announced today that the $8,310,000 Reading Railroad equipment trust series J, 5 per cent certificates offered, this morning had been sold and the subscription books closed.

The Remington Typewriter Co. announced that plants now on a five-day basis will begin working full time again on June 23, as compared with June 15 of the year, of 4,074 cars. Life, 173,389 were bad order cars.

A seat on the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange was sold today for $500, an advance of $500 over the last sale.

Pacific Oil Earnings.

By The Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 7.—The first annual report of the Pacific Oil Co. and its affiliated companies, once the property of the Southern Pacific Co. which was made public today shows gross earnings from operations in 1933 of $20,853,333. This net profit was $14,808,140.

Surplus income last year, after deductions for depreciation and depletion and Federal income taxes, was $1,747,992, a reduction for the year amounted to 14,947,283 barrels. The number of wells in operation on Dec. 31, 1933, was 535.

The 5,000,000 shares of the company's stock were originally subscribed for by the Southern Pacific Co. at $15 a share, giving the company a cash balance of $75,000,000 out of which it sold $40,000,000 as working capital, and with the remainder purchased oil lands and 40.48 per cent of the outstanding capital stock of the associated company from the Southern Pacific Land Co., a subsidiary of the Southern Pacific Co.

BROADNESS MAIN STOCK MARKET FEATURE TODAY

Movement of Prices Generally Irregular—Motors and Coppers Move Up—New Low on German Mark Recorded.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, July 7.—The Evening Post in its copyrighted financial view today says:

Today's stock market was notable more for the broad scope of trading than for any impressive movement in prices. The total number of issues in which transactions occurred was remarkably large, man stocks which are seen on tape only at infrequent intervals appearing during the day. The movement of prices was irregular in the main. The motor shares under leadership of Studebaker developed strength during the afternoon as copper shares were firm during the entire session. Some of the cancellations a part of the gains yesterday, but in the main the advance in the advance into new high ground. The bond market was active and firm, but the rather spectacular advances of yesterday were not repeated. The renewal rate on loans was fixed at 4 1/2 per cent, during the last hour call money advanced to 4 1/2 per cent and to 5 per cent before the close.

Further Signs of Weakness.
German marks and French francs were the outstanding features in the day's exchange market. The franc was more made a new record for time by selling down to 18 1/2, of cent compared with a closing price of 22 1/2 of a cent yesterday. France touched a low point for the year at 18 1/2 cents at which price they were 1 1/2 points below previous close. Sterling was relatively steady, but at 84 1/4 was 1/2 of a cent from yesterday's price. Most of the day's transactions in exchange were on a small scale.

Reserve Ratio Declines.
The reserve ratio for the Federal Reserve banks shows a decline of 1/2 point from 71.5 to 71 per cent, better figure being the smallest since May 6. There was a decrease of $40,000 in deposits, but a gain of $70,000,000 in outstanding Federal reserve note circulation, accompanied by an increase of $24,000,000 in redemptions by member banks.

Against their reserve account, which was reduced during the week to the extent of $14,000,000. The expansion of note circulation, increase in member bank borrowings, and reduction of the reserve account is attributed to the seasonal demand for cash at the opening of the vacation and travel season. The note circulation stands at the highest point since April 12.

IRON AND COPPER ARE FOUND UNDER VOLCANO

Drillings Being Made Into Crater in Hawaii in Hope of Harnessing Heat.

Correspondence of the Associated Press.
HILO, Island of Hawaii, T. H., June 13.—Drillings into the volcano of Kilauea on this island, in the hope of discovering some means of harnessing the steam and heat of the natural phenomenon and utilizing the resultant power in industry, have brought to light the apparent existence of iron and copper in the mountainous crater, according to scientists directing the drilling.

The materials through which the drills are sinking consist of a silicious ore containing iron sulphides and pyrites which indicate the presence of copper.

The drilling, which was interrupted by the recent activity in craters 11 miles from Halemauau, the active pit of Kilauea, has been conducted under difficulties, due to the excessive heat of the region and the fact that live steam rises in clouds and condenses around the boring rig.

The steam, however, is only surface steam or water vapor caused by seepage of rain from the ground surface, and the drills are not yet to a depth where it may be determined whether there is sufficient steam at a high enough temperature to furnish steam that may, in turn, be used commercially.

The heat at the present depth of the drilling appears to be fairly constant at a temperature of 96.3 degrees Centigrade, or approximately 204 degrees Fahrenheit.

WOOD BROWN AGAIN FIDDLING CHAMPION OF MISSOURI

Monroe County Men Defend Claim Against Player From Shelby County.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
PARIS, Mo.—Wood Brown again has successfully defended his claim to the fiddling championship of Missouri.

This time Brown's nimble fingers and old-time fiddle turned back William Stalcup, champion of Shelby County, who sought to acquire the State honors. Brown won the championship of Monroe County last winter against four contestants. With a gold medal on his breast, Wood took the stage and was given a tremendous ovation by his town folks. Stalcup also received a big hand, many from his country being present to cheer him. Each man played three pieces, but Brown clinched the contest when he offered "The Lost Indian," the selection that has made him famous hereabout.

The largest crowd ever at an entertainment in this city attended the contest, standing room being at a premium in the opera house, where the fiddlers held sway for several hours.

After-Dinner Tricks

No. 168—Disappearing Coin.

A coin is laid upon the left palm which is covered with the right hand. The hands are rubbed together and the coin mysteriously disappears.

To do the trick, the hands are held at right angles, as shown in the drawing. The right hand remains stationary, while the left, holding the coin, is swung quickly over the right. As the left hand comes directly beneath the right it stops with a sharp jerk. But the coin, resting loosely on the left palm and propelled by the momentum, keeps on going and shoots up the right side. The hands are then rubbed together and the coin disappears.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

Peter Rabbit Fights Temptation

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Don't trifle with temptation, but promptly run away. Who stops to fight is apt to lose, and dearly must he pay.

It is bad, very bad to have nothing in particular to do. Nothing leads to quite so much trouble as this. If everybody had something to do all the time and did it, most of the trouble in this world would vanish. Old Mr. Temptation seldom wastes time with busy people. Old Mr. Temptation is twin brother to Old Mr. Trouble.

Peter Rabbit had nothing in particular to do. For that matter he seldom does have much to do. But at this season of the year he had less than usual. You see he didn't have to hunt for food. There was plenty to eat close at hand. He didn't have to go more than a few steps from the dear Old Briar Patch to get all the sweet clover he could possibly eat. In winter he had to hunt long and hard to keep his stomach full and that gave him little time to get in mischief. But now it was very different. Already his babies were half-grown. The care of them he had always left largely to little Mrs. Peter anyway. So Peter was inclined to roam about and poke his wobbly little nose into other people's business.

It happened that just at dusk he was passing not far from Farmer Brown's garden. He hadn't been in that garden once since it was planted. Long ago he had made up his mind to keep away from there. But now as he was hopping along he suddenly thought of that garden and began to wonder what was growing in it this year.

Now this was just the opportunity Old Mr. Temptation had waited for. "Run over there and have a look," whispered Old Mr. Temptation.

Peter sat down. "No," said he most decidedly. "No, I'll keep away from the garden."

"Everything must be growing fine over there now," whispered Old Mr. Temptation. "It won't hurt anybody for you to go over there and look around. The young cabbages must be worth looking at now, not to mention the lettuce and other good things. Looking at them won't hurt them. A nice garden is always worth seeing. You are foolish not to have a look at it when you are so near. Run along over there just for a minute."

"No," said Peter again, though in not quite so decided a way. "No, I won't go over there."

"Why not?" demanded Old Mr. Temptation. "You haven't anything in particular to do. You may as well go over there as to go up to the Old Orchard. Probably you'll find Old Mr. Toad over there, and you haven't seen Old Mr. Toad for a long time."

"I don't care," replied Peter. "I'm not going a step nearer that garden than I am this minute."

"Pooh!" cried Old Mr. Temptation. "Pooh! It will do you good just to see the things growing there. No one will know you have been there, so what is the harm?"

Peter sat up and looked longingly over toward that garden. Of course Old Mr. Temptation was right. Just looking at those plants wouldn't hurt them. There wouldn't be the least bit of harm in hopping around through that garden as long as he didn't touch anything. He would like to see Old Mr. Toad. It was a long time since he had seen him, and he couldn't think of anyone he would rather have a little gossip with. He hopped a few steps toward the garden and stopped again. "Go along, go along!" whispered Old Mr. Temptation. "You know you always do enjoy a fine garden."

Peter shook his head, but it was not a very decided shake. "It wouldn't do any harm to just peek under the fence," thought he. "I will do that much."

Fashion News Notes

NEW YORK.—To keep pace with all the varnished and lacquered adornments of hats and frocks, there are now fascinating little bracelets of thin wood or of glass, made in squares of lozenge shaped links, and lacquered or painted scarlet, royal blue, jade, yellow and all the seasonable shades. Matching the bracelets in shades and materials are girdles, sometimes made of individual big flowers highly colored and varnished. Flower bracelets may be had to match the girdles, and there are Gothic looking plaques, swung on a black ribbon, to match both.

PARIS.—The Parisienne was not content until she cut the sleeves out of her frock and left the arm entirely bare. Now she complains because the bareness and has added the quaintest of bracelets to replace the sleeve. It is a wide armband of velvet or of satin ribbon, sewn to an elastic band which holds the ribbon in place. Sometimes this is merely a plain bit of black, making a nondescript arm look white and a white arm dazzling. Sometimes it is a colored ribbon, topped by two or three satin roses and decorated with long ribbon streamers.

PARIS.—A clever combination of sports coat with formal wrap has been effected in the little sleeveless crepe de chine coats worn over the summer gown. In China silk, or crepe de chine, these coats have a Chinese cast of patterns and colors. They are very loose and the suggestion of a mandarin coat is heightened by a silk cord at the neck, to the ends of which are attached little ivory ornaments. These coats are good with any sort of gown, but especially chic with white.

NEW YORK.—A hat designed particularly for the woman with bobbed hair is among the season's novelties. Indeed, it might be termed almost a necessity, since the fly away type of hat is all too likely to live up to its name when there is no coiled hair through which to thrust a hat pin. The bobbed hair hat is a snugly fitting little affair of satin or taffeta, with a contrasting band of trimming around the crown and long, dangling coils of ribbon over each ear.

LONDON.—Two novelties are brightening the pastel tinted gown which so many women affect for evening wear in the country. One idea is a hip girdle of beads and the other is an extraordinary little wrap. The hip girdle is usually composed of some such colors as turquoise and black or sealing wax and silver. It is very wide, almost in American genius perfects simple Hairpin—that stays in!

FOR many years most of the hairpins worn by American women, have been of foreign manufacture. And a hairpin has been just a hairpin. Dozens in the hair, on the floor, in the car—everywhere!

Now, thanks to American genius, a new day has dawned—a day of real hairpin efficiency, hairdress smartness and comfort—qualities not heretofore found in hairpins.

Sta-Rite is the name of the new Hairpin. It never hangs half way out. Nor does it drop out. It holds the hair in place—lightly, but firmly—all through the busy day. Yet, the Sta-Rite inserts, and may be taken out as easily as the old, straight type. And without pulling the hair, or your hair net.

So, tonight, or tomorrow surely! Dress your hair with the Sta-Rite. It won't take long—so few of them are needed.

Maxims of a Modern Maid

By Marguerite Mooers Marshall

WHY some marriages fail: Because the man does everything he can to make his wife happy, when what she really wants is to be miserable.

A young woman goes from her parents' home to an office "because a business girl gets to know men so well"—and frequently STAYS in the office, instead of going into a new home of her own, for identically the same reason!

A woman's idea of a mean thing is the husband who doesn't overrule instantly her offer to go to a cheap place for the summer—thus allowing her to enjoy the prerogative of selfishness, while escaping its penalties.

What neither the wife nor her rival can possibly understand is "how he can care for THAT woman!"

The man most women find it hardest to forgive is the one who never does anything for which he needs to be forgiven.

One wonders if even the flapper, who with all her faults reads the newspapers, can keep from giggling

when she hears her solemn elder brother talk about the "liberal" education Harvard offers.

Paris has sounded the decree for longer skirts—but the bathing suit makers must be hard of hearing.

There is something about the Shipping Board's earnest alibi for the sale of hooch which reminds every wife of the time Henry tried to explain that he REALLY wasn't drunk, 'n' dear!

Life at the bathing beach this year is just one darned shin after another. (Copyright, 1922.)

Dentists say: "USE BOTH!"

For SURFACE beauty

Use Tooth Paste twice a day

For CREVICE cleanliness

Use Liquid Antiseptic before and after brushing

"SOME habits are precious and should be formed at an early age," said the dentist, discussing decaying crevices shown by his chart. "Careful, regular, thorough cleansing of the teeth, gums and entire mouth should be as much a pleasure as a duty. On retiring and again on rising, rinse as well as brush your teeth. Antiseptics will save many a tooth."

Dentists fill and pull so many teeth that are surface-clean but decayed in between that they strongly feel tooth paste alone is not enough.

Use Sanitol Tooth Paste first. It's a pure-white, pleasing, thorough-cleansing dentifrice that polishes and brings out the natural whiteness of the enamel. Then follow through with Sanitol Liquid Antiseptic—a refreshing mouth-wash that cleanses the crevices, acts germicidally and strengthens the tissues of the gums.

That's the Sanitol double treatment, manufactured especially to provide a handy, convenient, economical means of following the universal dental advice to USE BOTH.

You'll enjoy this exhilarating treatment. You'll step into your day's work in a fresher, happier mood. The price of both is probably little more than you are now paying for your tooth paste alone—the prices are pre-war! Start today. Try BOTH!

HOOT MON!

The city of Conneaut, O., recent-

PATROLMAN BUCK with skill and luck.

And extra ammunition,
Went forth to shoot the birds that hoot.

And send them to perdition.
Six times he shot, six birds he got.
A clever bit of shooting,
As one by one his trusty gun
Cut off their doleful hooting.

MY FAVORITE STORIES

By IRVIN S. COBB

THE REUNION OF THE AGED.

THERE is a certain musical comedy star who is not quite so young as she once was. She still has beauty and voice and she is just as clever and talented as ever; but it is not to be denied that a good many years have passed since she made her professional debut.

During the past season she headed a road show. Business at times was not especially good and the tempers of the troupe members suffered. Relations became somewhat strained between the prima donna and certain members of the chorus.

This friction was at its height when the company began a week's engagement in a middle Western city. The theater was old-fashioned and somewhat primitive in its appointments behind the stage.
For example, the dressing rooms were no better than overgrown stalls. The walls between them ran up only part way toward the ceiling, so that voices in one of these cubicles might plainly be heard by those beyond the separating half-partitions.

For the opening performance the house was no more than two-thirds filled and the audience, for some reason or other, seemed rather unresponsive. The leading lady was not in a particularly happy frame of mind as she sat in her so-called dressing room after the final curtain, removing her makeup. Next door several members of the chorus were shifting to street dress.

There came a knock at the star's door.

"Who is it, and what do you want?" she demanded sharply.

"It's the house manager, Miss —," came the answer. "There's a lady out front who'd like very much to see you."

"I'm not receiving visitors tonight," said Miss —, rather acidly.

"Who is this lady?"

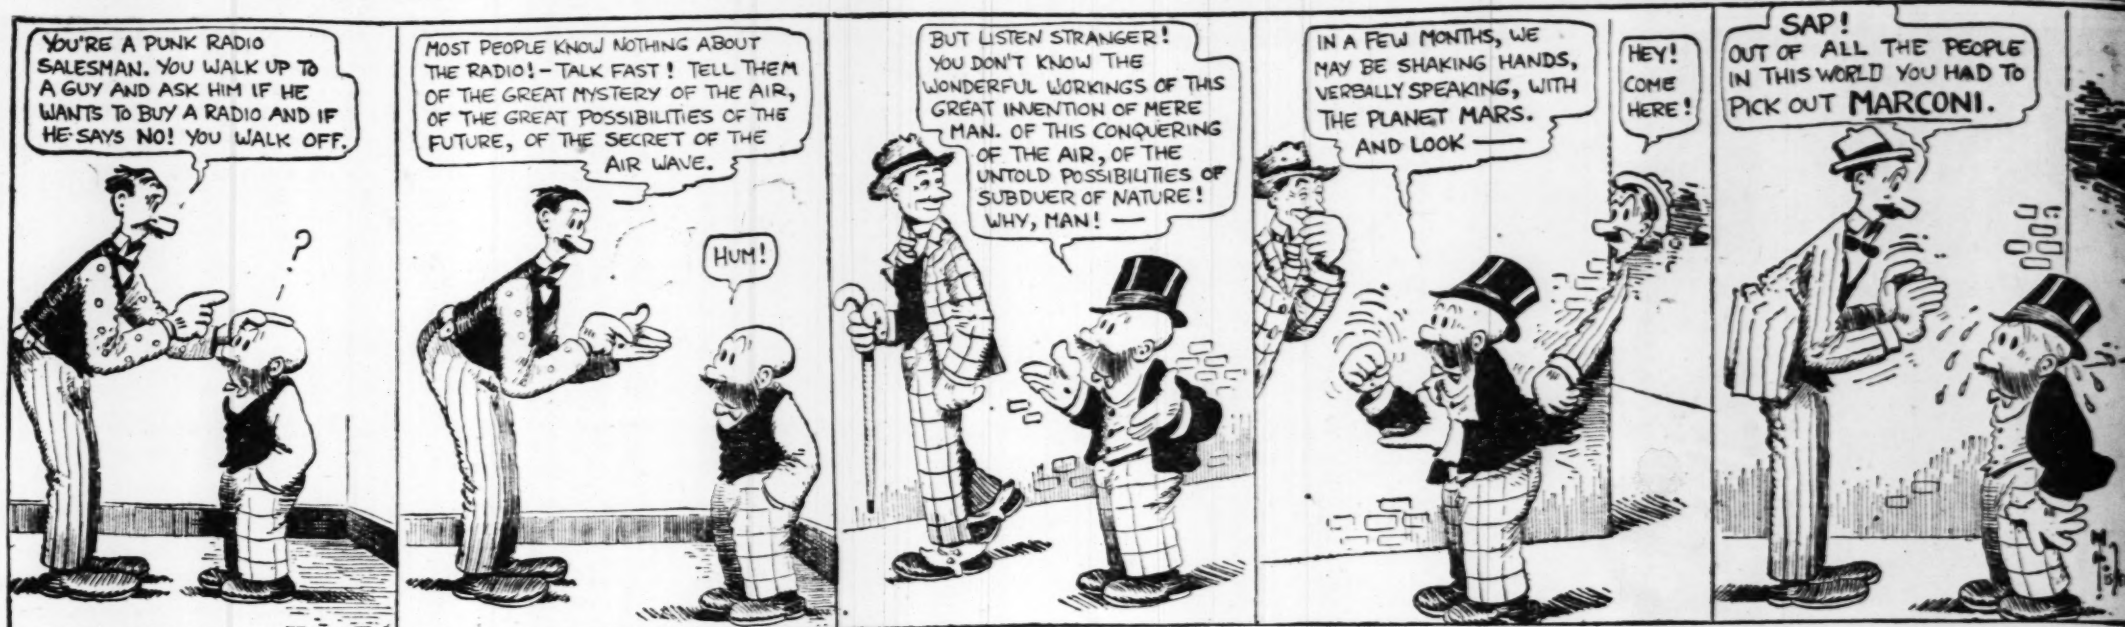

"She tells me that she thinks you'll be glad to see her. She says that she was a chum of yours when you were at high school."

Over the dividing wall came floating the voice of a catty chorus lady.

"Wheel her in!"

By The Associated Press.
CHICAGO, July 8.—Railway shopmen entered the second week of their strike today with no apparent inclination to follow the only sue to peace held open to them
the United States Railroad Labor Board.

The board stands on the position taken by Chairman Ben W. Hooper that the only way the striking shopmen can receive recognition in coercive conferences is to restore themselves to standing before the board by returning to work.

B. M. Jewell, head of the railroad employees' department of the American Federation of Labor, who has held himself open to approach
"any responsible person authorized to negotiate a settlement," declined to make the first move prefer-rather, to let the blame for a continuance of the strike rest upon the Labor Board and the railroads.

The railroads remain immovable in their attitude of considering the strike as against the Government rather than against the roads.

Conditions generally, so far transportation and shop operations are concerned, remain much the same, but the beginning of the second week of the strike brings increasing restlessness among strikers and outbreaks in scattered rail centers.

New Disorders in Chicago.
New disorders have broken out in Chicago, where crowds of strikers and sympathizers continue manifestations against workers suspected of strikebreaking.

Several men, suspected of being strikebreakers, were pulled from a street car and beaten yesterday. The homes of workers were sacked and attacked with a hail of sticks and stones. A box car was fired and burned and several cars were discovered soaked with oil.

ing spirit among strikers to enforce abandonment of shop work.

A station of shop work on the Alton was discovered soaked with oil. The Chicago & Alton is one of the worst sufferers from the growing spirit among strikers to en-
force abandonment of shop work.

Although none of the disturbances in Illinois was considered by authorities as serious enough to warrant a call for troops, Adjutant General Black nevertheless declared that troops already mobilized were not to be demobilized until the situation changed, and threats of further disorders disappeared.

No violence was reported in Alton shops and yards at Bloomington, but committees of strikers sued emergency workers to allow them their jobs, leaving the railroads with limited resources to handle trains.

Gov. A. M. Hyde of Missouri, whom frequent appeals were made for troops, has exchanged communications with strikers on the Missouri Pacific. The strikers, in a telegram to Gov. Hyde, thanked him for his fair and "impartial position," taken in refusing to order troops strike centers, and assuring that they would do everything possible to prevent violence
the destruction of property.

In reply Gov. Hyde told strikers that their right to quit singly or collectively would be recognized, and he asked them to co-operate in the protection of other men who also had a right to work.

The Governor assured the strikers that if they made good on promises there would be no result for calling State troops. He added, several companies are held ready for a call.

Traffic Normal, Roads Safe.
Most railroads report traffic usual. The Santa Fe reports heavier than usual, and a few have curtailed service. The Wisconsin & Northwestern has appealed to the Oklahoma State Corporation for authority to discontinue four passenger trains.

At Topeka, Kan., Randall H. H-attorney for the Kansas Com-Industrial Relations, swore out complaints against three striking shopmen and two in Ottawa.
